Red China, U. S. Talks In Recess

Johnson, Wang To Meet Aug. 10

Geneva, Aug. 8 (AP)—Ambassadors of the United States and Red China held another secret talk today, then recessed until Wednesday morning.

The session was one of the longest since U. S. Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson and Chinese Envoy Wang Ping-nan began negotiations last Monday on the release of 40 American civilians held by Peiping. The two diplomats talked today for almost two hours and a half.

A U. S. spokesman said a joint statement would be issued later today (7 a. m. EST).

ALTHOUGH there was no official sign of progress toward the release of the civilians, the belief was still widespread that the talks would result eventually in their repatriation. Such agreement would permit the two diplomats to move on to the second item on their two-part agenda, other issues between their two governments.

Johnson and Wang resumed their talks after a four-day recess during which they consulted their governments. Their main problem appeared to be to find a formula which could resolve their differences over some 4,000 Chinese students who came to the United States after World War 2.

PEIPING claims large numbers of these, perhaps thousands, want to return to the China mainland but are being detained by the United States.

The United States contends that since April all Chinese in America have been free to leave. Thirty-five went home earlier this year and 40 others have been reported wanting to go. Secretary of State Dulles told his news conference last week there were no restrictions on their departure.

The 40 American civilians held in China are mostly businessmen and missionaries who are in prison, under house arrest or unable to get exit permits.

WANG in the talks last week was understood to have proposed that a neutral third power be allowed to act on behalf of Peiping in interviewing the Chinese students and arranging their repatriation.

Reliable sources said Johnson countered with the suggestion that Peiping furnish the names of any Chinese in the United States who want to go to Red China.

THE CONTINUED expectancy that the Americans would be released was based primarily on two factors:

1. The release of the 11 American airmen by the Communists last Monday, just before the Geneva talks began.

2. The belief in diplomatic circles here that Red China is determined to create an atmosphere conductive to a meeting between Dulles and Premier-Foreign Minister Chou En-lai.

If they are able to dispose of the repatriation issue, the two ambassadors are expected to lay the groundwork for such a meeting to take up other major questions at issue between their governments.

Bomb in Viet Nam

Paris, Aug. 8 (AP)—A powerful bomb heavily damaged the interior of South Viet Nam's Palace of Justice at Saigon last night, but there were no casualties, the French News Agency reported. A few minutes before the blast Premier Ngo Dinh Diem had passed in front of the building on his way to a ceremony at the city hall. This gave rise to reports that an attempt had been made on Diem's life.

Vaccine Clinics Are Set

Polio vaccine clinics will be held at the Kate Walton Field House Wednesday and Thursday mornings for eligible children in Grades 1 through 4 in the city of Kingston and the towns of Ulster, Kingston, Esopus and Hurley.

Parents of eligible children in the upton section of the city of Kingston are asked to bring their children to the clinic Wednesday morning. Those in the downtown section of the city are asked to bring their children to the Thursday morning clinic.

Dr. Dudley Hargrave, Ulster county health commissioner, said it would greatly assist the department if parents would cooperate in bringing their children at those times. The clinics will be held from 9 a. m. to 12 noon on each of the two days.

HE SAID he knew some of the children eligible for shots would not be available this week. "We wish to assure those parents that we will have more clinics in the fall at which time we can catch up and get all the eligible children we may have missed."

The vaccine will be available to those children for whom records are at present available. Children will be included who were eligible for two shots and only received one. In addition, children who received the true vaccine during the field trials in 1954 will receive a booster shot at this time.

Dr. Hargrave said other clinics for the remainder of Ulster county would be announced at a later date.

HE EXPLAINED today that large amounts of polio vaccine are now available for use in the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis program.

He said the state health commissioner felt that every effort should be made to make the vaccine available immediately to as many children in Ulster county as possible—"despite the fact that many children are on vacation, schools are closed, records are locked up and physicians are on vacation."

The state commissioner has based this decision on the opinion of Dr. Jonas Salk and a committee of experts who feel that resumption of clinics at this time might result in some prevention of cases this summer.

County Has Two New Polio Cases

Two more cases of polio were reported in Ulster county last week, bringing the total cases for the year to seven—six residents of the county and one non-resident, it was announced today by Dr. Dudley Hargrave, county health commissioner.

One of the new cases, a resident of the northwestern section of the county, is a five-year-old boy who is in a hospital "making an uneventful recovery," Dr. Hargrave said.

The child is not a paralytic case, the commissioner pointed out. He had not received the polio vaccine.

Bayonets Not Used Says U. S.

30,000 Koreans Mill in Streets

Seoul, Aug. 8 (AP)—Nine American soldiers and four Koreans were reported injured in renewed riots last night at Pusan against the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission. The U. S. 8th Army officially denied Korean police reports that U. S. guards bayoneted three Koreans in a Saturday Pusan outbreak.

Police said none of the 13 was reported seriously hurt in a stone throwing clash between demonstrators and U. S. soldiers guarding quarters of the NNSC truce inspecting team.

POLICE estimated some 30,000 Korean laborers milled through Pusan streets throughout last night.

Other demonstrations were reported at west coast ports Inchon and Kunsan.

South Korea's government waited answer, meanwhile, to its demand that all NNSC teams get out of the country by Saturday.

The commission is composed of members from Switzerland and Sweden and pro-Communist Poland and Czechoslovakia. The ROK government charges the Pole and Czech members are spies for North Korea.

In a letter to the ROK government the 8th Army asked its "cooperation for common objectives and not to resort to force or any violence," a ROK government source said.

THE 8th ARMY in a release said reports that American military guards had bayoneted three Koreans in the Saturday Pusan rioting were false.

The 8th Army denial came as the Korean government announced it had sent a protest to army officials against the use of bayonets and tear gas in subduing the riot.

The ROK protest was sent by Kim Chang Heung, chief of the national police, who charged that U. S. soldiers wounded the Koreans with bayonets at Pusan Saturday and used tear gas Sunday in restoring order at Pusan and Kangnung.

"CERTAIN acts have occurred," an army release said, "which may have given rise to erroneous or false reports of bayonetting."

The army statement quoted an unnamed U. S. Army officer as saying a "uniformed Korean agitator on a truck shouted at military police 'go ahead and stick me.'

"When the MPs refused to use bayonets, he (the Korean) pulled out a knife and slashed his own arms and face."

The army said that demonstrators at Pusan ripped down 400 feet of barbed wire fence, "receiving wire scratches and cuts on their hands and faces which probably accounts for (other) erroneous and false reports of bayonetting."

POLICE SAID Sunday night's Pusan rioting broke out when Korean demonstrators tried to cut the water supply line into the Hialeah compound housing truce inspection teams of the NNSC.

There were no reports that the line had been cut.

Korean police also said 22 other Koreans were injured when U. S. soldier guards used tear gas to break up the mob.

Riots flared Sunday at Taegu midway between Seoul and Pusan, at Kunsan on the west coast and at Kangnung on the east coast.

IN INCHON some 300 youths, including former anti-Communist prisoners of war, were reported still blocking the small causeway that leads to the NNSC inspection team com- (Continued on Page 15, Col. 6)

President Stresses Atom Peace

Choice Up to Man On Good or Evil

Geneva, Aug. 8 (AP)—President Eisenhower said today that atomic science is the "newest and the most promising tool" of all to help clean up the "dark breeding places" of disorders and wars.

He sent a message of greeting to the opening session of the United Nations conference on peaceful uses of atomic energy, to be read by Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission.

In it, the President reaffirmed his pledge of Dec. 8, 1953, to the UN to find ways to apply this science to the well being of man instead of his death.

"WE APPEAL not alone to governments to join us in this cooperative endeavor," he said. "We are hopeful also that business and professional groups throughout the world will become interested and will provide incentives in finding new ways that this science can be used."

Saying the atom itself is "nonpolitical" and only man's choice can make it good or evil, the President said:

"All of the enlightened nations of the world are spending large sums every year on programs of health, education and economic development. They do so because they know that disease, ignorance and the lack of economic opportunity are the dark breeding places of disorders and wars.

"EVERY SCIENTIFIC tool available has been brought to bear in this effort.

"Atomic science is the newest and the most promising tool of all.

"In your capable hands, I am confident it can be made to perform greatly for the betterment of human living."

Eisenhower said no other scientific gathering of such scope and importance has ever taken place, with peoples of the world represented, and a rich opportunity at hand to restore "old lines of free scientific communication which have been disrupted for so many years."

He noted that the UN resolution creating the conference limited its concern to scientific and technical matters.

"It is expressly nonpolitical," he said, adding:

"You meet, therefore, as free men of science, interested only in enriching man's store of knowledge about this wonderful discovery."

The conference president pointed to existing developments as forerunners of nuclear things to come.

"There is no longer any question that (fission type) atomic energy can be used for power generation," Bhabha said. "We know that it has been used for several years to heat houses in (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

Airmen Leave Wednesday

Tell of Reds' Torture Methods While Captives

Tokyo, Aug. 8 (AP)—The Chinese Reds used months of excruciating physical and mental torture to wring statements from 10 of 11 U. S. airmen downed in Korea and then used them to convict them as spies, Col. John Knox Arnold Jr. told a press conference here yesterday.

The 11 men, released last Thursday at the Hong Kong border, are scheduled to leave Tokyo Wednesday morning for home in two U. S. Air Force transports.

Air Force spokesmen said two routes were being considered for the homeward flight. One would take them to Travis Air Force Base, Calif., via Alaska and McChord Air Force Base, Wash. The other would go via Honolulu, which would have better medical facilities enroute "although we don't expect to need them."

From Travis the men will be flown to the bases nearest their homes for 30 day convalescent leaves.

Arnold led the others yesterday in telling of their treatment during 2½ years in China.

"They used 'persuasion' that civilized people simply do not know about," he said.

He told of being slugged in the face with his hands tied behind him, of tourniquet-like manacles, of being "forced to stand until you started screaming." Then he broke down briefly.

Arnold, of Silver Springs, Md., commanded a B29 shot down Jan. 12, 1953, while on a leaflet dropping mission over North Korea. Peiping's Communist propaganda radio anounced last November that Arnold and his 10 crewmen had been convicted of intruding over Manchuria on a spying mission.

Arnold was sentenced to 10 years. The others got from four to eight.

"They told me sooner or later they would get from me what they wanted—but they didn't get it," declared the thin, tired-looking colonel.

He said he never had confessed to intruding over China or to being on a spy mission.

"But I told those people things that would have been better if they did not know. I am very much ashamed . . . I am not proud of it," he said.

The only statement he signed, he said, was one that his air unit the 581st Aerial Resupply Group, had come to the Pacific to aid countries in danger of being overrun by nations opposed to democracy. At the trial in Peiping, later, other statements were added to this which made (Continued on Page 11, Col. 3)

Wife Moves Away to Think

Returning Airman Is Cheered by Phone Talk

Nevada City, Calif., Aug. 8 (AP) — Una Schmidt-Fine took her little boy and moved off by herself today, trying to decide whether she wants to remain the wife of a returning prisoner of war or of a logging tractor driver.

Una, a slightly built brown-haired woman of 20, says she married logger Alford B. Fine in the belief that Airman 2/c Daniel C. Schmidt was dead. He and 10 others in a B-29 were shot down Jan. 12, 1953, during the Korean War.

Una talked by transpacific telephone Sunday with Schmidt who is in Tokyo on his way back to America after 32 months in a Red China prison. After the call, her attorney, Harold Berliner, said Una had separated—at least temporarily — from the logger.

Just what Una and Schmidt talked about was not made public by Schmidt, Una or Berliner.

The attorney did say: "Una and Al believe it is best for all concerned that they live separate and apart until such time as their problems are solved. In fairness to Airman Schmidt, there will be no further announcement until he returns and has had an opportunity to discuss the entire matter."

Nevada City is high in the Sierra Nevada north and east of San Francisco.

At Tokyo, a Red Cross official said Schmidt came out of the telephone booth with his "morale improved."

The airman declared he would not discuss his tangled marital affairs until he had a chance to talk with Una face-to-face "and work out this personal problem with those intimately concerned."

He has never seen his 2½-year-old son, Danny. The youngster was born after Schmidt went to the Orient. Fine said the child now calls him "daddy."

At Portland, Ore., Mrs. Nellie Peters, mother of the airman, talked to her son Saturday night and said he "sounded very hurt." But she said he indicated he (Continued on Page 11, Col. 4)

Against Return to Hawaii

Girl Stowaway Enjoys Trip, Works on Ship

Long Beach, Calif., Aug. 8 (AP) —"It was wonderful," said 16-year-old Joycelyn Joan Pilapil of her stowaway trip from Hawaii on a Canadian destroyer. "I'd like to do it again—only legally."

She patted a short boyish bob haircut and added, "I had it cut especially for the trip. I guess they'll send me back to Hawaii, but I don't want to go."

Joycelyn's trip caused nautical consternation and trans-Pacific confusion after her discovery in the aft awning locker of HMCS Athabaskan.

The brown-eyed girl of Portuguese-Filipino descent left a lipstick note for her parents before hiding aboard the destroyer. It said she was leaving because "Bill wants to take care of me and the baby."

The FBI formed a reception committee for her upon arrival and she was taken to Juvenile Hall in Los Angeles. Today she was to be arraigned on stowaway charges.

Questioned about the note hinting she was expecting a baby, Joycelyn told reporters:

"That was a fib. I thought if I made the folks think I was pregnant they wouldn't try to find me. • • • There is a Bill, but I won't say who he is or where he is."

She said she served coffee and tea to the Athabaskan's officers, washed dishes and scrubbed the deck.

"They called me 'Butchie' and treated me like a little boy. I (Continued on Page 11, Col. 1)

Accidents Kill 43 in State

One Driver Critical In Area Auto Mishap

While accidents claimed 43 lives in New York state over the weekend, an average of almost one death an hour, no fatalities were reported in Ulster county but a 19-year-old Highland Falls youth was reported in critical condition as the result of an accident on Route 9W about five miles north of Marlborough early this morning.

Philip Wayne Smith, of 359 South Ninth street, was reported in critical condition at St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, after his car went out of control.

Highland State Police reported that young Smith suffered severe head injuries, a laceration above the right elbow, fractures of the upper and lower jaws, a large bruise on the right side of his chest and extensive lacerations of the face.

Troopers said young Smith was proceeding south about 2:20 a. m., when he apparently fell asleep at the wheel. The car swerved from the west to east side of the highway, struck a rock wall and crashed head-on into a tree, according to Trooper J. Cullen and John Ripa.

The car was heavily damaged and had to be towed away, it was said.

The Associated Press reported highway fatalities for the weekend in the state totaled 21. Twelve persons were drowned and 10 died in miscellaneous mishaps in the 54 hours from 6 p. m., Friday until midnight Sunday.

Heat Drops From Sunday 95 to 65 at 7 A.M. Today

August released some air-conditioning over night after producing record temperatures in its first week of temperatures in the nineties and above.

After a high of 95 degrees yesterday afternoon, the mercury dropped to an almost chilly 65 degrees by 7 a. m., today and rose to only 69 by 10:30 a. m.

Weathermen, however, aren't going further than to predict more than a possible "few days" of respite, and this vague promise comes after one of the hottest summers on record.

Kingston, by records of the city engineer's office, has had 38 days with temperatures of 90 degrees and above, to date this summer.

Of these, 25 were in July, six in June and seven so far this month. On more than 20 of the summer's hot ones, the mercury rose to 95 and above, and for seven of them it went to 100 and above.

After a record for both the month, the date, and the summer with Friday's 105, the mercury reached a high of 96 for another record, but Sunday's 95 was equalled for the date in 1949. The nearest to Saturday's high was 94 in 1942. The next (Continued on Page 11, Col. 2)

Knowland Says Adenauer Moscow Trip May Bring Out Real Russian Policy

Washington, Aug. 8 (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) says the forthcoming visit of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer to Moscow may demonstrate whether there is any "basic change" in Russian policies.

Adenauer has accepted a Russian invitation, but no date for his formal visit has yet been fixed.

Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, told reporters before leaving for California that up to now "there hasn't been a single instance of softening of the Soviets' attitude" on major cold war issues as an outgrowth of the Geneva Big Four Conference.

"The free world has had what might be called 'fringe benefits,' such as articles in Pravda and invitations for diplomats to visit the Russian premier's summer home, but these don't change basic issues," he said.

"These things must not be mistaken for a major change in policy which has not yet materialized in the Soviet position."

Knowland said he would believe that basic change had come only if the Soviets proved themselves willing to release the satellite states, agreed to a disarmament plan with adequate inspection, approved a reunited, free Germany and gave "a firm demonstration that their policy of the world revolution and subversion of other countries had been terminated."

He said all of these issues should be before the Big Four foreign ministers in their proposed October conference. And he said Adenauer's forthcoming (Continued on Page 11, Col. 2)

Tokyo, Aug. 8 (AP)—The Chinese Reds used months of excruciating physical and mental torture to wring statements from 10 of 11 U. S. airmen downed in Korea and then used them to convict them as spies, Col. John Knox Arnold Jr. told a press conference here yesterday.

The 11 men, released last Thursday at the Hong Kong border, are scheduled to leave Tokyo Wednesday morning for home in two U. S. Air Force transports.

Air Force spokesmen said two routes were being considered for the homeward flight. One would take them to Travis Air Force Base, Calif., via Alaska and McChord Air Force Base, Wash. The other would go via Honolulu, which would have better medical facilities enroute "although we don't expect to need them."

From Travis the men will be flown to the bases nearest their homes for 30 day convalescent leaves.

Arnold led the others yesterday in telling of their treatment during 2½ years in China.

"They used 'persuasion' that civilized people simply do not know about," he said.

He told of being slugged in the face with his hands tied behind him, of tourniquet-like manacles, of being "forced to stand until you started screaming." Then he broke down briefly.

Arnold, of Silver Springs, Md., commanded a B29 shot down Jan. 12, 1953, while on a leaflet dropping mission over North Korea. Peiping's Communist propaganda radio anounced last November that Arnold and his 10 crewmen had been convicted of intruding over Manchuria on a spying mission.

Arnold was sentenced to 10 years. The others got from four to eight.

"They told me sooner or later they would get from me what they wanted—but they didn't get it," declared the thin, tired-looking colonel.

He said he never had confessed to intruding over China or to being on a spy mission.

"But I told those people things that would have been better if they did not know. I am very much ashamed . . . I am not proud of it," he said.

The only statement he signed, he said, was one that his air unit the 581st Aerial Resupply Group, had come to the Pacific to aid countries in danger of being overrun by nations opposed to democracy. At the trial in Peiping, later, other statements were added to this which made (Continued on Page 11, Col. 3)

Wife Moves Away to Think

Returning Airman Is Cheered by Phone Talk

Nevada City, Calif., Aug. 8 (AP) — Una Schmidt-Fine took her little boy and moved off by herself today, trying to decide whether she wants to remain the wife of a returning prisoner of war or of a logging tractor driver.

Una, a slightly built brown-haired woman of 20, says she married logger Alford B. Fine in the belief that Airman 2/c Daniel C. Schmidt was dead. He and 10 others in a B-29 were shot down Jan. 12, 1953, during the Korean War.

Una talked by transpacific telephone Sunday with Schmidt who is in Tokyo on his way back to America after 32 months in a Red China prison. After the call, her attorney, Harold Berliner, said Una had separated—at least temporarily — from the logger.

Just what Una and Schmidt talked about was not made public by Schmidt, Una or Berliner.

The attorney did say: "Una and Al believe it is best for all concerned that they live separate and apart until such time as their problems are solved. In fairness to Airman Schmidt, there will be no further announcement until he returns and has had an opportunity to discuss the entire matter."

Nevada City is high in the Sierra Nevada north and east of San Francisco.

At Tokyo, a Red Cross official said Schmidt came out of the telephone booth with his "morale improved."

The airman declared he would not discuss his tangled marital affairs until he had a chance to talk with Una face-to-face "and work out this personal problem with those intimately concerned."

He has never seen his 2½-year-old son, Danny. The youngster was born after Schmidt went to the Orient. Fine said the child now calls him "daddy."

At Portland, Ore., Mrs. Nellie Peters, mother of the airman, talked to her son Saturday night and said he "sounded very hurt." But she said he indicated he (Continued on Page 11, Col. 4)

Against Return to Hawaii

Girl Stowaway Enjoys Trip, Works on Ship

Long Beach, Calif., Aug. 8 (AP) —"It was wonderful," said 16-year-old Joycelyn Joan Pilapil of her stowaway trip from Hawaii on a Canadian destroyer. "I'd like to do it again—only legally."

She patted a short boyish bob haircut and added, "I had it cut especially for the trip. I guess they'll send me back to Hawaii, but I don't want to go."

Joycelyn's trip caused nautical consternation and trans-Pacific confusion after her discovery in the aft awning locker of HMCS Athabaskan.

The brown-eyed girl of Portuguese-Filipino descent left a lipstick note for her parents before hiding aboard the destroyer. It said she was leaving because "Bill wants to take care of me and the baby."

The FBI formed a reception committee for her upon arrival and she was taken to Juvenile Hall in Los Angeles. Today she was to be arraigned on stowaway charges.

Questioned about the note hinting she was expecting a baby, Joycelyn told reporters:

"That was a fib. I thought if I made the folks think I was pregnant they wouldn't try to find me. * * * There is a Bill, but I won't say who he is or where he is."

She said she served coffee and tea to the Athabaskan's officers, washed dishes and scrubbed the deck.

"They called me 'Butchie' and treated me like a little boy. I (Continued on Page 11, Col. 1)

Accidents Kill 43 in State

One Driver Critical In Area Auto Mishap

While accidents claimed 43 lives in New York state over the weekend, an average of almost one death an hour, no fatalities were reported in Ulster county but a 19-year-old Highland Falls youth was reported in critical condition as the result of an accident on Route 9W about five miles north of Marlborough early this morning.

Philip Wayne Smith, of 359 South Ninth street, was reported in critical condition at St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, after his car went out of control.

Highland State Police reported that young Smith suffered severe head injuries, a laceration above the right elbow, fractures of the upper and lower jaws, a large bruise on the right side of his chest and extensive lacerations of the face.

Troopers said young Smith was proceeding south about 2:20 a. m., when he apparently fell asleep at the wheel. The car swerved from the west to east side of the highway, struck a rock wall and crashed head-on into a tree, according to Trooper J. Cullen and John Ripa.

The car was heavily damaged and had to be towed away, it was said.

The Associated Press reported highway fatalities for the weekend in the state totaled 21. Twelve persons were drowned and 10 died in miscellaneous mishaps in the 54 hours from 6 p. m., Friday until midnight Sunday.

Heat Drops From Sunday 95 to 65 at 7 A.M. Today

August released some air-conditioning over night after producing record temperatures in its first week of temperatures in the nineties and above.

After a high of 95 degrees yesterday afternoon, the mercury dropped to an almost chilly 65 degrees by 7 a. m., today and rose to only 69 by 10:30 a. m.

Weathermen, however, aren't going further than to predict more than a possible "few days" of respite, and this vague promise comes after one of the hottest summers on record.

Kingston, by records of the city engineer's office, has had 38 days with temperatures of 90 degrees and above, to date this summer.

Of these, 25 were in July, six in June and seven so far this month. On more than 20 of the summer's hot ones, the mercury rose to 95 and above, and for seven of them it went to 100 and above.

After a record for both the month, the date, and the summer with Friday's 105, the mercury reached a high of 96 for another record, but Sunday's 95 was equalled for the date in 1949. The nearest to Saturday's high was 94 in 1942. The next (Continued on Page 11, Col. 2)

Knowland Says Adenauer Moscow Trip May Bring Out Real Russian Policy

Washington, Aug. 8 (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) says the forthcoming visit of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer to Moscow may demonstrate whether there is any "basic change" in Russian policies.

Adenauer has accepted a Russian invitation, but no date for his formal visit has yet been fixed.

Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, told reporters before leaving for California that up to now "there hasn't been a single instance of softening of the Soviets' attitude" on major cold war issues as an outgrowth of the Geneva Big Four Conference.

"The free world has had what might be called 'fringe benefits,' such as articles in Pravda and invitations for diplomats to visit the Russian premier's summer home, but these don't change basic issues," he said.

"These things must not be mistaken for a major change in policy which has not yet materialized in the Soviet position."

Knowland said he would believe that basic change had come only if the Soviets proved themselves willing to release the satellite states, agreed to a disarmament plan with adequate inspection, approved a reunited, free Germany and gave "a firm demonstration that their policy of the world revolution and subversion of other countries had been terminated."

He said all of these issues should be before the Big Four foreign ministers in their proposed October conference. And he said Adenauer's forthcoming (Continued on Page 11, Col. 2)

Paralytic Polio Toll in State 13 Since Salk Shots

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 8 (AP)—Thirteen children in New York state have suffered paralytic polio since taking one or more shots of Salk Vaccine this year, the State Health Department reported today. One child died.

Another 25 who were inoculated at mass clinics this spring and summer have contracted nonparalytic polio, the department said.

SALK VACCINE is designed to prevent only paralytic polio. Health experts say that at least two shots are necessary to create immunity, which develops about two weeks after the vaccine is administered.

Meanwhile, the department reported, polio incidence in the 57 counties outside New York city, already well ahead of last year, took a sharp upturn during the week ended last Saturday.

SIXTY NEW cases were reported. That compared with 38 cases in the preceding week and 32 in the corresponding week of 1954.

The new figures brought to 262 the total of cases reported outside the city since the start of the year. In the comparable period last year 202 were reported.

The Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce was one of four Jaycee organizations in the state to receive a National Award for "Starting Americas Leaders." This is a program designed to develop leadership in our youngsters by encouraging participation and cooperation in various youth activities. According to Jack Doyle, local Jaycee president, the Kingston organization received this award because of their sponsorship of such programs as Little League baseball, the Easter egg hunt, Voice of Democracy contest, Christmas Shopping Tour for underprivileged children, Lite-a-bike campaign, Teenage Road-e-o, Junior Golf, Junior Tennis, and other youth programs.

The award was presented to Kingston at the annual New York State Junior Chamber of Commerce Leadership Training Meeting, held this past weekend at Saranac Lake. Local Jaycees in attendance were Robert Stedge, New York state regional vice president; Robert MacKinnon, past local president, and Robert Matthews. Robert MacKinnon was named state chairman of the "Our Part in Government" committee, which is to be one of the top national projects this year.

Ferry Trouble

Palatka, Fla. (AP)—Anybody wanting to get from the east to the west side of St. Johns river here probably will have to whistle. Somebody stole the 16-inch bell and the 16-foot post to which it was attached from the Gates ferry crossing. It was used to summon B. G. Thorpe, the ferry operator.

High Jumper

When frightened, the springbok, a timid antelope-like animal, leaps high in the air with a curiously easy movement. Its leap sometimes reaches a height of 12 or 13 feet.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Aug. 8 (AP)—Stocks were higher today in a very quiet market.

Prices in early dealings ranged from between 1 and 2 points higher to around a point lower.

Coppers did well in the face of a possible price increase being talked about in Wall Street. Most major divisions were higher. Motors were mixed.

New Political Party Organized in Saar

Saarbruecken, Saar, Aug. 7 (AP)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's political disciples in the Saar organized a new party last night. They promised to fight the "Europeanization" of the German-speaking border territory on which Adenauer and France agreed last year.

The Saarlanders are to vote in a plebiscite Oct. 23 to accept or reject the French-West German agreement putting the coal-rich valley under a European commissioner and continuing its postwar economic union with France, at least until a German peace treaty.

The new party took the name of Saar Christian Democratic Union (CDU), after the West German CDU which Adenauer heads. The Saar CDU telegraphed the chancellor thanks for the freedom which in part the Saar has finally received." But the message added the CDU "will vote 'no' with good conscience" in the plebiscite.

Europeanization of the Saar was part of the price France demanded and won for consenting to West German sovereignty and rearmament.

The Saar CDU was organized under another provision of the French-West German agreement which lifted the French occupation ban on pro-German parties in the territory.

President

winter in a small area in England.

"WE KNOW THAT a U. S. submarine (the Nautilus) has been propelled successfully by atomic energy and we know that in the Soviet Union an atomic power station of 5,000 kilowatts had fed electricity into the grid.

"An atomic power station of 50,000 kilowatts is expected to be in operation in the United Kingdom next year, and a rapidly accelerating program of new power stations has been planned.

"Several atomic power stations of varying designs are under construction in the Soviet Union. Further, two atomic power producing reactors are under construction in France and one is being planned in Canada."

Declaring "there is little doubt that many atomic power stations will be established in different parts of the world during the next 10 years," the scientist said:

"The extent to which atomic energy contributes in (the) future to the total energy production will depend on the capital and running costs involved, and will vary from country to country."

NOTING THAT a widespread atomic power industry "will produce vast amounts of radioactive material," he said direct effects of radiation on man and other living animals and plants "are fairly well known, and its is possible to prescribe safe tolerance doses, though even here there appears to be some divergence of view among experts."

"The indirect effects," Bhabha continued, "are much more difficult to assess. Above all, not enough is known yet about the genetical (hereditary) effects."

He said "most of the mutations (genetic changes) produced by radiation are lethal or deleterious," and he added:

"NATURAL SELECTION perhaps gives an inherent stability to the evolutionary process throught the survival of the favorable mutations and the extinction of the carriers of the deleterious ones.

"Nevertheless, this is too important a matter for any risk to be taken, and it is imperative that the long range genetic effects of a small rise in the general level of radiation should be established beyond doubt."

He won a traveling fellowship that took him to the German universities of Gottingen and Technische Hochschule, Berlin, before becoming an instructor in chemistry at University of Michigan in 1904. Woman Picket Charges Assault At Local Factory

Samuel W. Seigel, 54, of Mist Maid Fashions, Inc., 17 Cornell street, was arrested on a warrant charging third degree assault this morning at police headquarters on complaint of Frances Colao, of Flatbush road.

Last week, as picketing was in progress in front of the Cornell street plant, Seigel arrested James J. Uhl Jr., of East Chester street extension, and James J. Colao, of Flatbush avenue extension on disorderly conduct charges, after a disturbance was reported at the plant. Miss Colao was listed among pickets at the plant then.

Local 259, International Ladies Garment Workers Union, said the plant was being picketed in an effort to organize about 40 workers there.

Judge Gold reserved decision after trial of the two arrested last week and hearing on the charge against Seigel was put over until Wednesday.

Paralytic Polio Toll in State 13 Since Salk Shots

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 8 (AP)—Thirteen children in New York state have suffered paralytic polio since taking one or more shots of Salk Vaccine this year, the State Health Department reported today. One child died.

Another 25 who were inoculated at mass clinics this spring and summer have contracted nonparalytic polio, the department said.

SALK VACCINE is designed to prevent only paralytic polio. Health experts say that at least two shots are necessary to create immunity, which develops about two weeks after the vaccine is administered.

Meanwhile, the department reported, polio incidence in the 57 counties outside New York city, already well ahead of last year, took a sharp upturn during the week ended last Saturday.

SIXTY NEW cases were reported. That compared with 38 cases in the preceding week and 32 in the corresponding week of 1954.

The new figures brought to 262 the total of cases reported outside the city since the start of the year. In the comparable period last year 202 were reported.

Kingston Jaycees Get National LeadershipAward

The Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce was one of four Jaycee organizations in the state to receive a National Award for "Starting Americas Leaders." This is a program designed to develop leadership in our youngsters by encouraging participation and cooperation in various youth activities. According to Jack Doyle, local Jaycee president, the Kingston organization received this award because of their sponsorship of such programs as Little League baseball, the Easter egg hunt, Voice of Democracy contest, Christmas Shopping Tour for underprivileged children, Lite-a-bike campaign, Teenage Road-e-o, Junior Golf, Junior Tennis, and other youth programs.

The award was presented to Kingston at the annual New York State Junior Chamber of Commerce Leadership Training Meeting, held this past weekend at Saranac Lake. Local Jaycees in attendance were Robert Stedge, New York state regional vice president; Robert MacKinnon, past local president, and Robert Matthews. Robert MacKinnon was named state chairman of the "Our Part in Government" committee, which is to be one of the top national projects this year.

Ferry Trouble

Palatka, Fla. (AP)—Anybody wanting to get from the east to the west side of St. Johns river here probably will have to whistle. Somebody stole the 16-inch bell and the 16-foot post to which it was attached from the Gates ferry crossing. It was used to summon B. G. Thorpe, the ferry operator.

High Jumper

When frightened, the springbok, a timid antelope-like animal, leaps high in the air with a curiously easy movement. Its leap sometimes reaches a height of 12 or 13 feet.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Aug. 8 (AP)—Stocks were higher today in a very quiet market.

Prices in early dealings ranged from between 1 and 2 points higher to around a point lower.

Coppers did well in the face of a possible price increase being talked about in Wall Street. Most major divisions were higher. Motors were mixed.

New Political Party Organized in Saar

Saarbruecken, Saar, Aug. 7 (AP)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's political disciples in the Saar organized a new party last night. They promised to fight the "Europeanization" of the German-speaking border territory on which Adenauer and France agreed last year.

The Saarlanders are to vote in a plebiscite Oct. 23 to accept or reject the French-West German agreement putting the coal-rich valley under a European commissioner and continuing its postwar economic union with France, at least until a German peace treaty.

The new party took the name of Saar Christian Democratic Union (CDU), after the West German CDU which Adenauer heads. The Saar CDU telegraphed the chancellor thanks for the freedom which in part the Saar has finally received." But the message added the CDU "will vote 'no' with good conscience" in the plebiscite.

Europeanization of the Saar was part of the price France demanded and won for consenting to West German sovereignty and rearmament.

The Saar CDU was organized under another provision of the French-West German agreement which lifted the French occupation ban on pro-German parties in the territory.

"WE KNOW THAT a U. S. submarine (the Nautilus) has been propelled successfully by atomic energy and we know that in the Soviet Union an atomic power station of 5,000 kilowatts had fed electricity into the grid.

"An atomic power station of 50,000 kilowatts is expected to be in operation in the United Kingdom next year, and a rapidly accelerating program of new power stations has been planned.

"Several atomic power stations of varying designs are under construction in the Soviet Union. Further, two atomic power producing reactors are under construction in France and one is being planned in Canada."

Declaring "there is little doubt that many atomic power stations will be established in different parts of the world during the next 10 years," the scientist said:

"The extent to which atomic energy contributes in (the) future to the total energy production will depend on the capital and running costs involved, and will vary from country to country."

NOTING THAT a widespread atomic power industry "will produce vast amounts of radioactive material," he said direct effects of radiation on man and other living animals and plants "are fairly well known, and its is possible to prescribe safe tolerance doses, though even here there appears to be some divergence of view among experts."

"The indirect effects," Bhabha continued, "are much more difficult to assess. Above all, not enough is known yet about the genetical (hereditary) effects."

He said "most of the mutations (genetic changes) produced by radiation are lethal or deleterious," and he added:

"NATURAL SELECTION perhaps gives an inherent stability to the evolutionary process throught the survival of the favorable mutations and the extinction of the carriers of the deleterious ones.

"Nevertheless, this is too important a matter for any risk to be taken, and it is imperative that the long range genetic effects of a small rise in the general level of radiation should be established beyond doubt."

Noted Chemist Dies

Midland, Mich., Aug. 8 (AP)—Dr. William J. Hale, 79, Dow Chemical Co. research consultant and one of the nation's top organic chemists, died today after a brief illness. Known as the "Father of Chemurgy," a word he coined to describe farm chemistry, Dr. Hale developed processes to increase production of indigo, chloracetic acid and phenyl ethyl alcohol. He won a traveling fellowship that took him to the German universities of Gottingen and Technische Hochschule, Berlin, before becoming an instructor in chemistry at University of Michigan in 1904. Dr. Hale was the author of several textbooks on chemistry, including "Chemistry Triumphant" in 1932 in which he predicted the present silico-plastics age. His recent publications included "Farmward March" and "Chemivision," dealing with his studies in chemurgy. Funeral plans are not complete.

Woman Picket Charges Assault At Local Factory

Samuel W. Seigel, 54, of Miss Maid Fashions, Inc., 17 Cornell street, was arrested on a warrant charging third degree assault this morning at police headquarters on complaint of Frances Colao, of Flatbush road.

Last week, as picketing was in progress in front of the Cornell street plant, Seigel arrested James J. Uhl Jr., of East Chester street extension, and James J. Colao, of Flatbush avenue extension on disorderly conduct charges, after a disturbance was reported at the plant. Miss Colao was listed among pickets at the plant then.

Local 259, International Ladies Garment Workers Union, said the plant was being picketed in an effort to organize about 40 workers there.

Judge Gold reserved decision after trial of the two arrested last week and hearing on the charge against Seigel was put over until Wednesday.

Audrey Crome, 45, was arrested at 581 Broadway Sunday night by Rose Jackson on a third degree assault charge. Judge Gold today put the case over until Saturday.

Attorney Arthur B. Ewig represents Seigel and the other two were represented by Frank Martocci. Attorney John E. Gotelli represents the district attorney's office.

A-Bomb Survivors Living in Fear Of Fatal Illnesses

(Editor's note: The most lasting and sensitive impression the survivors of the atomic attacks on Hiroshima and Nagasaki have today is an abiding fear that their bodies still are affected; that they may come down with "atomic disease" even now, 10 years after the blasts. Here's a report on the situation, including what U. S. and Japanese doctors are doing about it, last in a series of three articles.)

By GENE KRAMER

Hiroshima, Japan, Aug. 8 (AP)—Thousands who survived the atomic bombings of Hiroshima and Nagasaki 10 years ago live in fear today that their health is permanently damaged.

It is a fear subtly exploited by anti-American elements, but it exists.

Some Japanese say "years after exposure to the bomb you suddenly become ill and die of atomic or radiation sickness. It is happening every week."

OTHERS, including some doctors, claim exposure to radiation has reduced their energy and probably will shorten their lives.

When a survivor of the Hiroshima or Nagasaki atomic blasts does—even if the cause is old age—some people and occasionally newspapers chalk it up to the bomb.

The Atomic Bomb Casualty Commission (ABCC), a joint U. S.-Japanese research project says much of this is unfounded. The ABCC, conducting an exhaustive statistical study of longterm health effects in the atom-bombed cities has some of the answers already.

THE STUDY will continue for years, perhaps generations, officials say, but these are the basic findings so far:

1. Leukemia, the fatal blood disease, right now is more prevalent than normal among survivors of the A-bomb.

2. So are eye cataracts, or opacity of the lens, although no blindness has been produced. Forty per cent of those so heavily exposed to radiation during atomic attack that their hair temporarily fell out have suffered this.

3. No genetic effects have been observed in the first generation of children born to mothers exposed to radiation.

Dr. R. H. Holmes, Aiken, S. C., director of the ABCC said that in examining 75,000 adults and 70,000 children of Hiroshima and thousands more in Nagasaki, "the critical area for radiation was 2,000 meters 1¼ miles from the bomb's center. For any practical purpose, anyone further was not affected." Both bombs happened to be about the same size.

"LEUKEMIA definitely increased among those heavily exposed to radiation. Fortunately the total has been relatively small," said Holmes.

There have been 70 cases of leukemia in Horoshima and 50 in Nagasaki, and they are still coming with abnormal frequency.

Leukemia has stricken 1 in 400 persons heavily exposed to radiation, compared to 1 in 5,000-6,000 outside the critical area. This is 12 to 15 times as much leukemia among A-bomb survivors. One Japanese doctor figured two-thirds of Nagasaki leukemia cases are attributable to the bombing.

HOLMES SAID "it is unlikely genetic effects will be observed in subsequent generations. However, everyone familiar with the subject knows radiation is capable of producing mutations. If such mutations occur, it is proable they would be so diluted in the future population so as to escape observation.

The ABCC is interested in conclusive statistics and to get them it must examine thousands of individuals. Into its clinics, the finest medical facilities in Hiroshima and Nagasaki, it calls all survivors it can for complete dental, physical, blood and X-ray examinations. Babies unborn at the time of the bombing are checked, death certificates are copied and autopsies are performed whenever permission is granted. On the 800-man staff are 15 Americans and 30 Japanese physicians.

SHIELDED FROM the bomb center is studied. For example in some cases it was found that even if a survivor less than one half mile from the bomb center has shielded from flash burns he could have received a serious dose of radiation. Statistics are tabulated on modern business machines.

A big obstacle to the research project has been emotional hostility to atomic weapons in the bombed cities. ABCC's original policy of examining but not treating patients brought charges of handling Japanese like "guinea pigs."

Feeling is much improved now with a closer relationship with community physicians and a recent decision to give treatment when recommended by local physicians, even to people not exposed to the A-Bomb.

MANY HIROSHIMA people say they are grateful for the ABCC physical examination, often the first they have ever had.

The widespread talk of "atomic sickness" is a perplexing problem, with ABCC doctors reluctant to discredit it entirely.

Principal Tatsuo Oi of Shiroyama grade school, Nagasaki, said a noticeable thing about 92 children put in special classes because they were exposed to the bomb is that "they are very slow recovering their stamina."

KYOSHI KIKKAWA, badly-burned atom bomb souvenir seller in Hiroshima, insists bitterly to all tourists, "atomic victims seem healthy but they are too feeble to do any hard work."

"Whatever 'atomic sickness' is, it is an ill-defined, vague condition," said Holmes.

"There's no way to prove fatigue comes from radiation. Who knows, in 10 years we might accept such a theory, but we must insist on being scientific and accepting only the facts as we learn them," said Dr. Wayne Truax, ABCC director in Nagasaki.

MANY BOMB survivors were found to be anemic. Truax disclosed that 10 to 12 per cent of those examined in Nagasaki had anemia in many cases caused by worms and cleared up by worm medicine. He also mentioned bad diet.

Dr. Michihiko Hachiya, director of Communications Hospital in Hiroshima, said the term "genbakusho" or atomic sickness, actually stems back to the confusion of Japan's defeat when almost anyone ill in Hiroshima was assumed to have "genbakusho."

"Many people ascribe almost anything to genbakusho," said Hachiya, who had his clothes burned off and was badly scarred in the bombing.

"WHEN I AM diagnosing what could be genbakusho lukemia, I must prove it was really caused by radiation. Usually I get lost along the way and so cannot definitely ascribe it to the A-bomb.

"That is why I respect the ABCC. They go about this project in the most scientific manner. Some day we may be able to draw some conclusions and for those conclusions the important data will come from ABCC. Statistically, they can do in half a year what would take our hospital 10 years, and they give us all the reports. So I am happy to let ABCC do the research for me."

HACHIYA AND other Japanese doctors say 9,000 bomb survivors in Hiroshima and Nagasaki desperately need treatment, 3,900 of them for external injuries such as keloid, the ugly scarring which restricts movement.

The big problem is money for equipment, attendants, medicine and welfare for patients who couldn't otherwise leave their jobs. The two cities are asking $216,000 from the central government as part of an $888,000 four-year plan to care for all survivors in need.

"Since the war we have treated 500 plastic surgery cases, and they were as major as the Hiroshima maidens being treated in New York. We just need more resources", said Hachiya.

Get Food Poisoning

Camp Drum, N. Y., Aug. 8 (AP)—Four national guardsmen stricken with food poisoning on the train trip here from the Boston area Saturday were expected to be released from the camp hospital today. They were among 51 members of the Yankee division who became ill. Eight were admitted to the hospital. Four of them were released yesterday. None were in serious condition, authorities said. Barge Worker Saves Six Lives in Canal

Brewerton, N. Y., Aug. 8 (AP)—A youthful barge hand plunged into the barge canal twice Saturday night to rescue four children and two adults trapped in an automobile 18 feet under.

Leslie Ryan, 19, of Albany, saw the automobile, with a boat trailer attached, slide down a muddy embankment into the canal. He dived and opened car doors, enabling five of the six to reach the surface.

Then he plunged down and brought up two-year-old Paul Rowe, unconscious. Ryan gave the child artificial respiration for 15 minutes before a doctor arrived.

Also rescued were Joseph Cascanette, 42; Mrs. Robert Rowe, 42, Paul's mother; and three other Rowe children, Joanne, 1, Caroline, 5, and John, 11.

Father, Girl Die In Route 17 Crash

Ramsey, N. J., Aug. 8 (AP)—A Woodhaven, N. Y., man and his 3-year-old daughter suffered fatal injuries last night when the car in which they were riding collided with a trailer truck on Rt. 17 here.

Four other members of the family were injured, one critically. All were taken to Good Samaritan Hospital in Suffern, N. Y. Two occupants of the trailer truck were unhurt.

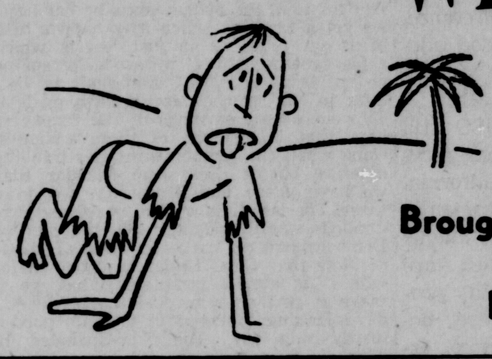

Dead on arrival at the hospital were Louis Rubin, of 8521 79th street, Woodhaven, N. Y., and his daughter Roberta, 3. In critical condition was Rubin's wife, Dorothy, 34. Less seriously injured were three other daughters of the Rubins, Jean, 18; Stella, 17; and Stephanie, 8.

Ramsey state police said the trailer truck apparently was moving onto the southbound lane of the highway from a gasoline station when the vehicles crashed.

A-Bomb Survivors Living in Fear Of Fatal Illnesses

(Editor's note: The most lasting and sensitive impression the survivors of the atomic attacks on Hiroshima and Nagasaki have today is an abiding fear that their bodies still are affected; that they may come down with "atomic disease" even now, 10 years after the blasts. Here's a report on the situation, including what U. S. and Japanese doctors are doing about it, last in a series of three articles.)

By GENE KRAMER

Hiroshima, Japan, Aug. 8 (AP)—Thousands who survived the atomic bombings of Hiroshima and Nagasaki 10 years ago live in fear today that their health is permanently damaged.

It is a fear subtly exploited by anti-American elements, but it exists.

Some Japanese say "years after exposure to the bomb you suddenly become ill and die of atomic or radiation sickness. It is happening every week."

OTHERS, including some doctors, claim exposure to radiation has reduced their energy and probably will shorten their lives.

When a survivor of the Hiroshima or Nagasaki atomic blasts does—even if the cause is old age—some people and occasionally newspapers chalk it up to the bomb.

The Atomic Bomb Casualty Commission (ABCC), a joint U. S.-Japanese research project says much of this is unfounded. The ABCC, conducting an exhaustive statistical study of longterm health effects in the atom-bombed cities has some of the answers already.

THE STUDY will continue for years, perhaps generations, officials say, but these are the basic findings so far:

1. Leukemia, the fatal blood disease, right now is more prevalent than normal among survivors of the A-bomb.

2. So are eye cataracts, or opacity of the lens, although no blindness has been produced. Forty per cent of those so heavily exposed to radiation during atomic attack that their hair temporarily fell out have suffered this.

3. No genetic effects have been observed in the first generation of children born to mothers exposed to radiation.

Dr. R. H. Holmes, Aiken, S. C., director of the ABCC said that in examining 75,000 adults and 70,000 children of Hiroshima and thousands more in Nagasaki, "the critical area for radiation was 2,000 meters 1¼ miles from the bomb's center. For any practical purpose, anyone further was not affected." Both bombs happened to be about the same size.

"LEUKEMIA definitely increased among those heavily exposed to radiation. Fortunately the total has been relatively small," said Holmes.

There have been 70 cases of leukemia in Horoshima and 50 in Nagasaki, and they are still coming with abnormal frequency.

Leukemia has stricken 1 in 400 persons heavily exposed to radiation, compared to 1 in 5,000-6,000 outside the critical area. This is 12 to 15 times as much leukemia among A-bomb survivors. One Japanese doctor figured two-thirds of Nagasaki leukemia cases are attributable to the bombing.

HOLMES SAID "it is unlikely genetic effects will be observed in subsequent generations. However, everyone familiar with the subject knows radiation is capable of producing mutations. If such mutations occur, it is proable they would be so diluted in the future population so as to escape observation.

The ABCC is interested in conclusive statistics and to get them it must examine thousands of individuals. Into its clinics, the finest medical facilities in Hiroshima and Nagasaki, it calls all survivors it can for complete dental, physical, blood and X-ray examinations. Babies unborn at the time of the bombing are checked, death certificates are copied and autopsies are performed whenever permission is granted. On the 800-man staff are 15 Americans and 30 Japanese physicians.

SHIELDED FROM the bomb center is studied. For example in some cases it was found that even if a survivor less than one half mile from the bomb center has shielded from flash burns he could have received a serious dose of radiation. Statistics are tabulated on modern business machines.

A big obstacle to the research project has been emotional hostility to atomic weapons in the bombed cities. ABCC's original policy of examining but not treating patients brought charges of handling Japanese like "guinea pigs."

Feeling is much improved now with a closer relationship with community physicians and a recent decision to give treatment when recommended by local physicians, even to people not exposed to the A-Bomb.

MANY HIROSHIMA people say they are grateful for the ABCC physical examination, often the first they have ever had.

The widespread talk of "atomic sickness" is a perplexing problem, with ABCC doctors reluctant to discredit it entirely.

Principal Tatsuo Oi of Shiroyama grade school, Nagasaki, said a noticeable thing about 92 children put in special classes because they were exposed to the bomb is that "they are very slow recovering their stamina."

KYOSHI KIKKAWA, badly-burned atom bomb souvenir seller in Hiroshima, insists bitterly to all tourists, "atomic victims seem healthy but they are too feeble to do any hard work."

"Whatever 'atomic sickness' is, it is an ill-defined, vague condition," said Holmes.

"There's no way to prove fatigue comes from radiation. Who knows, in 10 years we might accept such a theory, but we must insist on being scientific and accepting only the facts as we learn them," said Dr. Wayne Truax, ABCC director in Nagasaki.

MANY BOMB survivors were found to be anemic. Truax disclosed that 10 to 12 per cent of those examined in Nagasaki had anemia in many cases caused by worms and cleared up by worm medicine. He also mentioned bad diet.

Dr. Michihiko Hachiya, director of Communications Hospital in Hiroshima, said the term "genbakusho" or atomic sickness, actually stems back to the confusion of Japan's defeat when almost anyone ill in Hiroshima was assumed to have "genbakusho."

"Many people ascribe almost anything to genbakusho," said Hachiya, who had his clothes burned off and was badly scarred in the bombing.

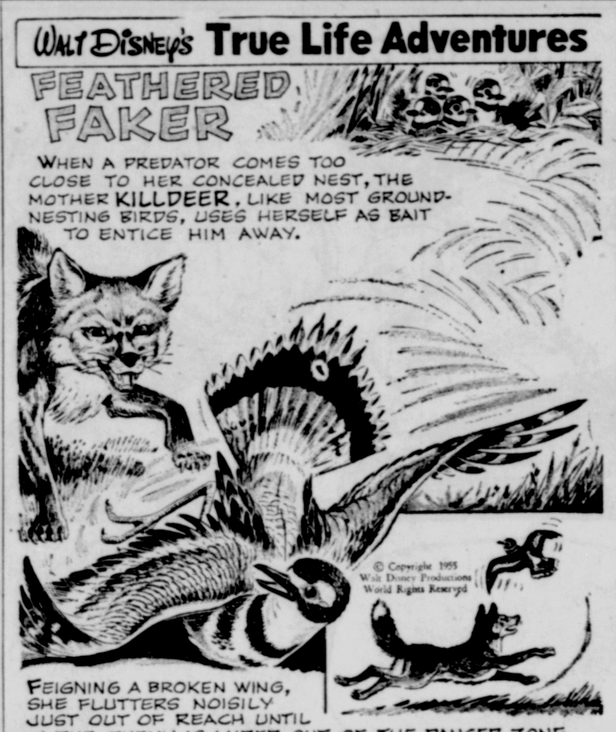

"WHEN I AM diagnosing what could be genbakusho lukemia, I must prove it was really caused by radiation. Usually I get lost along the way and so cannot definitely ascribe it to the A-bomb.

"That is why I respect the ABCC. They go about this project in the most scientific manner. Some day we may be able to draw some conclusions and for those conclusions the important data will come from ABCC. Statistically, they can do in half a year what would take our hospital 10 years, and they give us all the reports. So I am happy to let ABCC do the research for me."

HACHIYA AND other Japanese doctors say 9,000 bomb survivors in Hiroshima and Nagasaki desperately need treatment, 3,900 of them for external injuries such as keloid, the ugly scarring which restricts movement.

The big problem is money for equipment, attendants, medicine and welfare for patients who couldn't otherwise leave their jobs. The two cities are asking $216,000 from the central government as part of an $888,000 four-year plan to care for all survivors in need.

"Since the war we have treated 500 plastic surgery cases, and they were as major as the Hiroshima maidens being treated in New York. We just need more resources", said Hachiya.

Camp Drum, N. Y., Aug. 8 (AP)—Four national guardsmen stricken with food poisoning on the train trip here from the Boston area Saturday were expected to be released from the camp hospital today. They were among 51 members of the Yankee division who became ill. Eight were admitted to the hospital. Four of them were released yesterday. None were in serious condition, authorities said. It was reported that air conditioning broke down on the train and that the heat spoiled box lunches.

USO IN TROUBLE

Civilians often find it difficult to realize that thousands of young men are still in uniform in the service of their country. One reason is that while off duty service men can wear civilian clothes and are inconspicuous.

Yet these young men cannot be ignored. They need entertainment while off duty. And as often as not they need a home away from home. That's the function of the USO, which started during World War II and is still operating. But there's a difference. During World War II it commanded adequate funds and volunteers. Today the USO is faced with a shortage of both.

Despite these handicaps, the USO still functions, and is very popular among servicemen. The USO in Hollywood, California, serves 25,000 service men and women a month. Wherever branches of this unique organization exist, their facilities are strained. If anything, their hospitality programs are more vital today than ever before, since peacetime military service, essential though it may be, is dull and lacks the morale-building excitement of war.

As civilians it is important to us and to our military forces to support the United Service Organizations. They need funds and volunteer workers, whether in their libraries, doughnut stands or any other good works. People in towns near enough to a USO branch can offer their own services, always in demand. People at a distance can contribute financially. Even a doughnut with a hole in it needs some dough.

There's a new traffic light that counts cars and turns green lights to red. If it works like other traffic devices it will have an uncanny knack of calculating just how many cars it can let through and still stop you.

BELTS SAVE LIVES

Safety engineers have known for years that the widespread use of automobile seat belts would greatly reduce the number of serious injuries in highway accidents. They have not been able to convince the public of this, but there are signs that the tide is turning.

One of the clearest indications is the fact that a Louisiana insurance company is seeking permission to offer reduced rates on cars equipped with safety belts. If that practice spreads, many motorists will have such belts installed.

Industry is ready. One large manufacturer has set up an automotive safety division to make seat belts. At least one auto company already is offering them as optional equipment, and another plans to do so on its new models.

Seat belts are not expensive, especially in the light of the fact that they may save lives. Resistance to the idea is largely psychological. Motorists often dislike the reminder that death may be around the next corner.

Yet safety belts are accepted as standard equipment in airplanes. Hardly anyone objects when the stewardess says, "Please fasten your seat belt." Serious injuries have been avoided because passengers complied with that request. Now motorists will learn that the belt can prevent injury and save lives on the highway.

VENTURE INTO SPACE

President Eisenhower has announced that the United States plans to launch the first man-made earth-circling satellite by the end of 1958. These little moons will be the shape and size of basketballs and would circle the earth every 90 minutes at a speed of 18,000 miles per hour.

The purpose of launching the satellite is scientific. Knowledge gained from the experiment will be shared by all the nations. The launching would be one of the contributions of the United States to the international geophysical year.

It seems only yesterday that people would stop in the streets to see the early planes go overhead. Now man turns his thoughts and his energy to ventures in space. This progress can mean richer, fuller lives. All that is necessary is the injection of as much imagination and energy into the search for intelligent human relationships—so that man can live with his fellows in peace.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

GOOD-WILL

The slogan, "Peace and Prosperity," is appealing. Nobody is against either. Peace is wonderful, as Father Divine discovered when he entered upon a career of selling peace as a commodity. Prosperity adds to our material well-being and for a long time we have all been seeking it.

In fact, whoever speaks ill of "Peace and Prosperity" confesses to being a crank, a shrew, a complainer, a harping critic. This makes it very tough for the Democrats who cannot say that they are against "Peace and Prosperity"; yet must try to defeat Eisenhower in 1956 if they are not to permit the Republicans really to become entrenched in Washington. It is so much easier to chop off hold-over heads in a second term than in a first. Besides, some people just die off or retire.

The Democrats are undoubtedly also embarrassed by Senator Walter George, a man highly respected and senior. George has followed in the footsteps of Senators Vandenberg and Wiley, who, as chairmen of the Committee on Foreign Relations, felt the mantle of statesmanship fall upon them, and thereupon became supporters of the administration in power. Senator George goes a step further; he pronounces the Administration's policy before John Foster Dulles or the President get around to it.

In fact, it would not be amiss to call the Era of Good-Will, the George Policy, as he has done so much to promote it and has put his high prestige behind it. The George Policy of Good-Will has been reciprocated by Nikita Khrushchev, so that realistically it might be called the George-Khrushchev Policy of Peace on Earth, good-will to all men in our times. The ideal is noble and as President Eisenhower has made the most of it, surely it ought to re-elect him, which could do the Democrats no good.

If next year, nothing untoward happens, this George-Khrushchev Policy will have proved that those who believed that war would come between the United States and Soviet Russia were all wrong and President Eisenhower will be more popular than ever and will be re-elected and the Republicans will seed themselves down as a perennial power in Washington. In fact, President Eisenhower himself said as much at the Republican Ballyhoo Breakfast.

But no taxes are to be cut, and as Senator Bridges said, the budget must be balanced before we get a tax cut, which may happen after most of us have gone to our just deserts, which is not a pleasant thought. If we are so prosperous, why do not taxes go down? And shall we be making gifts to Khruschchev as we have made them to Tito out of the earnings of the taxpayers? Perhaps that is just one of those anxieties which come when the temperature rises into the upper nineties, but it does seem peculiar that when we have peace and prosperity, we do not cut taxes. The last time we had peace and prosperity, Coolidge was President and he did cut taxes. The Democrats might make an issue of that.

Now that Chou En-lai has gone in for goodwill, it is almost complete. What we need to make it perfect is to find that Nehru's private devil, Krishna Menon, will go in for good-will and lustily sing out "The Star-Spangled Banner," which is more than one can hear at the Tanglewood concerts where last year there was an American flag but this year there is none. Perhaps it is characteristic of the era of good-will to put the American flag in moth-balls for the duration.

The release of the 11 airmen who have been held as hostages in Red China is being hailed as a manifestation of good-will, which it can only be hoped that it is. Now perhaps the 40 American civilians will be released and no American will be held anywhere as a hostage for his country. It ought to be so anyhow in this enlightened era. But this plagues the analytical mind: If the Geneva Conference between the United States and Red China was to deal only with the release of the 11 American prisoners and they have been released, why go on with this Conference? However, it is too hot this summer to ask too many questions.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

CANCER OF THE PROSTATE

It is an appalling fact that approximately 15 per cent of all men over 55 years of age on whom post-mortem examinations have been performed, have been shown to have definite carcinoma (cancer) of the prostate gland. It is also true that 20 to 25 per cent of all patients who need treatment for bladder neck obstruction have cancer of the prostate. What is being done for this too common type of tumor?

In the early 40's it was discovered that the use of hormone treatment with such drugs as Stilboestrol and Estynil brought much relief of pain to many sufferers and probably retarded the progress of this disease. However many doctors report that this hormone therapy or treatment does not cure the disease nor does it retard it sufficiently to keep these patients from dying of the disease in large numbers.

"At present, the only type of curative treatment that is effective in an appreciable number of cases is surgical removal of the disease in its early stages." The difficulty is that as the cancer usually starts in the outer part of the prostate, symptoms of obstruction of the bladder neck or other symptoms due to the carcinoma do not occur early. They occur late in the disease when the tumor has progressed to the urethra—the tube carrying urine from the bladder to the surface—distorting it and interfering with urination, or when the tumor has spread and produced pain in adjoining parts. The cancer must be discovered early if it is to be cured and this can be done only by rectal examination every six months after the age of fifty and adequate biopsy studies of suspicious areas. A biopsy is taking a small piece of suspected tissue and examining it under the microscope.

Once a definite diagnosis of cancer has been made, treatment must be begun and in those persons who are 70 years of age or younger, who are in good condition, the treatment of choice is prostatectomy—surgical removal of the prostate or a section of it. The death rate in this operation is very low at the present time and the operation usually produces good results. There are, however, definite complications which the patient should understand. First, in about ten per cent of cases there will be either a partial or complete lack of bladder control. Secondly, there is danger of stricture (abnormal narrowing of the canal carrying the urine) or the formation of fistulas (deep abscesses) which may or may not be readily relieved. Third, all these patients are impotent.

"However, there is so much to gain from this operation in these cases, except in young persons in whom impotence is important, that we believe it should be recommended."

Remember, an early diagnosis must and can be made only by rectal examination and biopsy; for when symptoms do occur the disease is no longer in the stage in which surgical removal is likely to be effective.

That's the Danger!

Edson's Washington News Notebook

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA)—Washington officials caution against expecting too much from the direct negotiations between the United States and Red China at Geneva.

There is as yet no indication that the "new spirit" discovered by the Big Four heads of government two weeks ago, in dealing with western European issues, extends to the Far East. Certainly it does not reach down to the relatively low diplomatic level at which the new series of talks with the Red Chinese will be conducted.

America's representative in these talks, U. S. Ambassador to Czechoslovakia Ural Alexis Johnson, is a gifted and experienced young diplomat. He is regarded as completely competent to deal on even terms with Red China's Ambassador to Poland, Wang Pingnan, a tough bargainer.

Wang was Red China's principal negotiator at the Indochina cease-fire conference in Geneva a year ago.

THE SUBJECTS WHICH Johnson and Wang planned to talk about, however, were limited primarily to the release of the 11 American airmen and the 40 American civilians still held by Red China. However, in a startling announcement, coming just one hour before the conference was to open, the Chinese Reds revealed the 11 airmen would be freed immediately. No mention was made of the status of the 40 civilians. Three of the civilians are under house arrest, 25 are in jail and 12 have been denied exit visas.

Negotiations for the release of these 51 Americans have been carried on unsuccessfully by many intermediaries, including even U.N. Sec. Gen. Dag Hammarskjold. American and Red Chinese consular officials in Geneva have been discussing their possible release for over a year.

Four months ago the United States announced that the 76 Chinese students who were denied exit permits from the United States after the start of the Korean war would be free to return to the Chinese mainland if they desired.

THERE HAS BEEN NO SUCH freedom of choice for the Americans held by the Red Chinese. They have released the Americans one, two or three at a time and now 11. The apparent effort has been to hold them as hostages. The idea seems to be that this will gain the Reds some better bargaining position with the United States over completely unrelated matters.

India's Prime Minister Nehru and his roving Ambassador H. V. Krishna Menon have been trying to promote the idea that if Communist China would just release the prisoners, the way would be paved for a complete solution of all Far Eastern problems. It isn't that simple, of course.

The talks just opened at Geneva, beyond considering the release of prisoners, will be completely exporatory.

As Secretary of State John Foster Dulles points out, Ambassador Johnson will listen to whatever other matters Ambassador Wang wants to bring up. If they directly involve the U. S. and Red China, this country will be disposed to discuss them and try for peaceful settlement.

THE UNITED STATES has announced that it will not resort to force to settle oustanding differences in Korea, Indochina or the Formosa area. Ambassador Johnson will try to learn at Geneva whether Red China is willing to accept the concept of a cease fire over Quemoy and Matsu.

But any matter affecting the rights of Chiang Kai-shek's Republic of China government on Formosa will not be discussed without Nationalist China participation.

This is still a long way from the direct negotiations between the U. S. and Red China which Senate Foreign Relations Chairman Walter F. George (D-Ga.) has called for in the next six months.

Sec. Dulles has not ruled out the possibility of a future meeting with Red China's Premier and Foreign Minister Chou En-lai. But no one needs to be unduly alarmed that recognition of Red China and its admission to the United Nations is now in sight in a great new era of peace.

Peiping's North Korean Forces Bar to UN Entry

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Aug. 8—Unless Red China withdraws its troops from North Korea and agrees to a plan for the unification of the whole country under the auspices of the United Nations, there is no possibility even of considering the admission of the Peiping government to the UN's Security Council.

This is the plain meaning of a pointed comment by President Eisenhower at his press conference last week the words of which were reported though their significance was generally overlooked. Here is exactly what the President said:

"Now several times I have stated that as long as Red China is branded as an aggressor by the United Nations, which it still is, due to the fact that its armies are still in Korea, we have no choice of our own, and I don't know how the United Nations has a choice of its own.

"There are other outstanding complaints which I have outlined time and again, and I have no idea that under existing circumstances, there would be a change of the kind you indicated in our policy."

THE PRESIDENT originally used the phrase "branded as a dictator by the United Nations" but corrected himself later by saying he had intended to use the word "aggressor." His questioner had inquired specifically as to American policy toward Red China commenting that "generally the atmosphere seems to be one in which people now think there has been a change in the attitude of our government toward the possible recognition of the legitimacy of the Chinese government, that is the Chinese Communist government."

It is important to note that while Mr. Eisenhower referred to other "complaints" against the Red Chinese he made his principal point the presence of Red China's troops today in North Korea. His argument was that Red China not only had been branded an aggressor by the United Nations but "still is due to the fact that its armies are in North Korea."

This, in the President's view, gives neither the United States nor the United Nations any other choice but to bar the way to the admission of Red China. It is a consistent position. It means that admission is being denied not on the basis of the kind of government established ideologically by the Communists at Peiping but on the kind of government that exists as an external menace—a government that not only has refused to honor international obligations in the treatment of foreign nationals but also has refused even to acknowledge that it sent its armies into Korea.

The specious claim is still made by Peiping that only "volunteers" went to Korea and intervened—more than 1,000,000 of them. Since that claim was made, the Soviet Union, a member of the UN had publicly stated that it supplied arms and ammunition to the Red Chinese to help fight the war in Korea.

A LITTLE more than a year ago a Big Five conference was held at Geneva at which Red China's Foreign Minister, Chou En-lai, was present. He made a speech denouncing the UN and declaring emphatically that Red China would not accept UN auspices in holding elections in Korea. He characterized the Western nations as "aggressors"—a view incidentally which the supposedly neutral and disinterested Krishna Menon of India appears to share. Small wonder he is popular in Peiping.

Mr. Eisenhower has dramatically called attention to Red China's status as a continuous aggressor. Most people may have forgotten that orginally a United Nations commission was sent to Korea and recommended that an independent government be set up and that the Russians as well as the United States withdraw their troops stationed there as a result of World War II. America did and so did the Russians in 1949 but the Communists then set up a puppet government in North Korea. There may be some theoretical argument for the existence of a North Korean army as an internal faction but there is no valid basis whatsoever for the presence today of a Red China army in North Korea or its occupation of any Korean territory since October 1950. Yet such a realistic fact is overlooked by European governments which are urging the unification of Germany but seem willing to abandon the task of unifying Korea even though this mission was specifically entrusted to the United Nations.

THERE CAN be no settlement of the Korean question without guarantees that the independence of an all-Korean government chosen in free elections will be respected by the Communists.

There can be no settlement of the Formosa issue until free elections can be held inside China so that all Chinese may choose their form of government uncoerced by a dictatorship and its armies.

To admit an aggressor government into the UN now would cause the leaders of both political parties in the United States to demand withdrawal of America from the UN. They are on record to that effect. The loss of this country to the UN is too big a price for European countries to pay to appease the Communists in the interest of trade or anything else. For if America splits with its allies on the Red China issue it could conceivably affect foreign aid and other U.S. relations with Europe.

The President's remarks at his press conference show why admission of Red China to the UN is unthinkable on the basis of anything that has happened thus far. But they also constructively point out the course Red China must follow if she wants to be taken into the family of civilized nations.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Geneva, Aug. 3 — I am remaining in Geneva to scrutinize the International Labor Office, a socialist bureaucracy embracing 60 nations which occupies a palace on the shore of Lake Geneva, just down hill from the palace of the United Nations. For today I will defer that subject, however, to reflect on the so-called summit conference, the latest of a hundred such efforts, all of them futile down to now, which have been held since Versailles. Their names come fleetingly to mind—Locarno, Stresa, Quebec, Casablanca, Yalta, San Francisco, Potsdam and over, and over Geneva.

Geneva is a friendly, comfortable city which actually, by no design of her own, makes a profitable commerce of "peace" and international politics. She is also, necessarily, a center of constant intrigue which probably escapes the local people. Nicolai Lenin holed up here until the Kaiser's government, in desperation, gave him transportation to Kerensky's Russia to massacre not only the royalty and nobility but all other patriotic, superior Russians who loved their homeland and were religious in the passive habitual sense of many Christians.

About the same time, we let Leon Trotsky out of New York and, though the British delayed him at Halifax, they also let him go on, another tiny incident in a ghastly program of errors which brought our President to Geneva in 1955, 38 years later, to flash the sunshine of his smile on the Soviet delegation and wheedle again for peace.

The Germans underestimated the insensate brutality of the Communists and figured that this would be a controlled revolution. Kerensky was trying to bring the wretched rabble of the Russian army to a stand against a few sick-and-sore divisions of low-grade German troops.

The Germans plainly did not know the potentially extreme cost of this revolution which they were fomenting across their border. In time, the Red treachery leaked, then flowed in a great tide into their own land and hatred of Hitler never can expunge the fact that Russian bolshevism was the first enemy of the patriotic German movement known first as national socialism.

Good Germans tried to depict their situation to us but we called them all damned Nazis and refused to listen. In our own turn, we learned, thanks very much to Elizabeth Bentley, Whittaker Chambers, J. B. Matthews, Louis Budenz and others. But, by a strange quirk, many of our people, including publishers, so-called educators, ministers of religion, writers, actors and the Roosevelt-Truman regime as a whole still deride the patriotic impulse and, far from helping Martin Dies, Joe McCarthy, Roy Cohn and other such, belittle them, with scurrilous defamations wantonly invented.

The Germans had gone through that madness. Insurrectors had seized unloaded guns from irresolute soldiers under flabby political mountebanks and chased them to their barracks. The same thing happened to portly, middle-aged, uniformed cops at Dearborn, Mich.

The hero of the American resistance was Captain Mooney of the Chicago police. who drew a deadline and killed 11 rioters trying to break into a steel plant and slaughter American workers for staying on their jobs. Mooney stopped that insurrection cold. Senator Bob La Follette, under manipulation tried to make a bloody-handed butcher of Mooney but he had turned the tide. La Follette finally killed himself.

Now what did Eisenhower accomplish here?

The superficial fan who tags after heroes, will insist that Ike's "personality" won a psychological victory on both sides of the several so-called curtains. Well, Roosevelt gave us that stuff back in 1933. To my shame, I thought this grinning charlatan a better man than Herbert Hoover who showed in his expression a concentration on great perils to our people. The Russians, too, were strangely affable here but their demeanor is always a mechanical process like that of a movie actor. Whoever believes they have abandoned their dedicated purpose to destroy our civilization and wipe out the religion of which their own regime is a beneficiary simply ignores recorded declarations by all their prophets including bloody-handed V. M. Molotov, who was here in person.

Probably, as Ike hopes, there will be no violent war now. It may never come. It would hurt the Communists as much as us and why should they destroy a prize beyond price which will be theirs intact, in time, if we continue to sneer at people who expose traitors?

The Poles are not deceived by Ike's grin. We saw the true nature of the Red in the Polish party in the press headquarters when they poured vodka for hours to celebrate the anniversary of Russia's conquest of Poland. To our disgrace as a profession, a few Americans drank with them.

Ike was going to insist on discussion of the captivity of Poland. The Russians ignored him. And the captive people whom Roosevelt betrayed and Truman and Ike, himself, abandoned, are still prisoners of the same enemy that planted Harry Dexter White in the treasury.

USO IN TROUBLE

Civilians often find it difficult to realize that thousands of young men are still in uniform in the service of their country. One reason is that while off duty service men can wear civilian clothes and are inconspicuous.

Yet these young men cannot be ignored. They need entertainment while off duty. And as often as not they need a home away from home. That's the function of the USO, which started during World War II and is still operating. But there's a difference. During World War II it commanded adequate funds and volunteers. Today the USO is faced with a shortage of both.

Despite these handicaps, the USO still functions, and is very popular among servicemen. The USO in Hollywood, California, serves 25,000 service men and women a month. Wherever branches of this unique organization exist, their facilities are strained. If anything, their hospitality programs are more vital today than ever before, since peacetime military service, essential though it may be, is dull and lacks the morale-building excitement of war.

As civilians it is important to us and to our military forces to support the United Service Organizations. They need funds and volunteer workers, whether in their libraries, doughnut stands or any other good works. People in towns near enough to a USO branch can offer their own services, always in demand. People at a distance can contribute financially. Even a doughnut with a hole in it needs some dough.

There's a new traffic light that counts cars and turns green lights to red. If it works like other traffic devices it will have an uncanny knack of calculating just how many cars it can let through and still stop you.

BELTS SAVE LIVES

Safety engineers have known for years that the widespread use of automobile seat belts would greatly reduce the number of serious injuries in highway accidents. They have not been able to convince the public of this, but there are signs that the tide is turning.

One of the clearest indications is the fact that a Louisiana insurance company is seeking permission to offer reduced rates on cars equipped with safety belts. If that practice spreads, many motorists will have such belts installed.

Industry is ready. One large manufacturer has set up an automotive safety division to make seat belts. At least one auto company already is offering them as optional equipment, and another plans to do so on its new models.

Seat belts are not expensive, especially in the light of the fact that they may save lives. Resistance to the idea is largely psychological. Motorists often dislike the reminder that death may be around the next corner.

Yet safety belts are accepted as standard equipment in airplanes. Hardly anyone objects when the stewardess says, "Please fasten your seat belt." Serious injuries have been avoided because passengers complied with that request. Now motorists will learn that the belt can prevent injury and save lives on the highway.

VENTURE INTO SPACE

President Eisenhower has announced that the United States plans to launch the first man-made earth-circling satellite by the end of 1958. These little moons will be the shape and size of basketballs and would circle the earth every 90 minutes at a speed of 18,000 miles per hour.

The purpose of launching the satellite is scientific. Knowledge gained from the experiment will be shared by all the nations. The launching would be one of the contributions of the United States to the international geophysical year.

It seems only yesterday that people would stop in the streets to see the early planes go overhead. Now man turns his thoughts and his energy to ventures in space. This progress can mean richer, fuller lives. All that is necessary is the injection of as much imagination and energy into the search for intelligent human relationships—so that man can live with his fellows in peace.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

GOOD-WILL

The slogan, "Peace and Prosperity," is appealing. Nobody is against either. Peace is wonderful, as Father Divine discovered when he entered upon a career of selling peace as a commodity. Prosperity adds to our material well-being and for a long time we have all been seeking it.

In fact, whoever speaks ill of "Peace and Prosperity" confesses to being a crank, a shrew, a complainer, a harping critic. This makes it very tough for the Democrats who cannot say that they are against "Peace and Prosperity"; yet must try to defeat Eisenhower in 1956 if they are not to permit the Republicans really to become entrenched in Washington. It is so much easier to chop off hold-over heads in a second term than in a first. Besides, some people just die off or retire.

The Democrats are undoubtedly also embarrassed by Senator Walter George, a man highly respected and senior. George has followed in the footsteps of Senators Vandenberg and Wiley, who, as chairmen of the Committee on Foreign Relations, felt the mantle of statesmanship fall upon them, and thereupon became supporters of the administration in power. Senator George goes a step further; he pronounces the Administration's policy before John Foster Dulles or the President get around to it.

In fact, it would not be amiss to call the Era of Good-Will, the George Policy, as he has done so much to promote it and has put his high prestige behind it. The George Policy of Good-Will has been reciprocated by Nikita Khrushchev, so that realistically it might be called the George-Khrushchev Policy of Peace on Earth, good-will to all men in our times. The ideal is noble and as President Eisenhower has made the most of it, surely it ought to re-elect him, which could do the Democrats no good.

If next year, nothing untoward happens, this George-Khrushchev Policy will have proved that those who believed that war would come between the United States and Soviet Russia were all wrong and President Eisenhower will be more popular than ever and will be re-elected and the Republicans will seed themselves down as a perennial power in Washington. In fact, President Eisenhower himself said as much at the Republican Ballyhoo Breakfast.

But no taxes are to be cut, and as Senator Bridges said, the budget must be balanced before we get a tax cut, which may happen after most of us have gone to our just deserts, which is not a pleasant thought. If we are so prosperous, why do not taxes go down? And shall we be making gifts to Khrushchev as we have made them to Tito out of the earnings of the taxpayers? Perhaps that is just one of those anxieties which come when the temperature rises into the upper nineties, but it does seem peculiar that when we have peace and prosperity, we do not cut taxes. The last time we had peace and prosperity, Coolidge was President and he did cut taxes. The Democrats might make an issue of that.

Now that Chou En-lai has gone in for good-will, it is almost complete. What we need to make it perfect is to find that Nehru's private devil, Krishna Menon, will go in for good-will and lustily sing out "The Star-Spangled Banner," which is more than one can hear at the Tanglewood concerts where last year there was an American flag but this year there is none. Perhaps it is characteristic of the era of good-will to put the American flag in moth-balls for the duration.

The release of the 11 airmen who have been held as hostages in Red China is being hailed as a manifestation of good-will, which it can only be hoped that it is. Now perhaps the 40 American civilians will be released and no American will be held anywhere as a hostage for his country. It ought to be so anyhow in this enlightened era. But this plagues the analytical mind: If the Geneva Conference between the United States and Red China was to deal only with the release of the 11 American prisoners and they have been released, why go on with this Conference? However, it is too hot this summer to ask too many questions.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

CANCER OF THE PROSTATE

It is an appalling fact that approximately 15 per cent of all men over 55 years of age on whom post-mortem examinations have been performed, have been shown to have definite carcinoma (cancer) of the prostate gland. It is also true that 20 to 25 per cent of all patients who need treatment for bladder neck obstruction have cancer of the prostate. What is being done for this too common type of tumor?

In the early 40's it was discovered that the use of hormone treatment with such drugs as Stilboestrol and Estynil brought much relief of pain to many sufferers and probably retarded the progress of this disease. However many doctors report that this hormone therapy or treatment does not cure the disease nor does it retard it sufficiently to keep these patients from dying of the disease in large numbers.

"At present, the only type of curative treatment that is effective in an appreciable number of cases is surgical removal of the disease in its early stages." The difficulty is that as the cancer usually starts in the outer part of the prostate, symptoms of obstruction of the bladder neck or other symptoms due to the carcinoma do not occur early. They occur late in the disease when the tumor has progressed to the urethra—the tube carrying urine from the bladder to the surface—distorting it and interfering with urination, or when the tumor has spread and produced pain in adjoining parts. The cancer must be discovered early if it is to be cured and this can be done only by rectal examination every six months after the age of fifty and adequate biopsy studies of suspicious areas. A biopsy is taking a small piece of suspected tissue and examining it under the microscope.

Once a definite diagnosis of cancer has been made, treatment must be begun and in those persons who are 70 years of age or younger, who are in good condition, the treatment of choice is prostatectomy—surgical removal of the prostate or a section of it. The death rate in this operation is very low at the present time and the operation usually produces good results. There are, however, definite complications which the patient should understand. First, in about ten per cent of cases there will be either a partial or complete lack of bladder control. Secondly, there is danger of stricture (abnormal narrowing of the canal carrying the urine) or the formation of fistulas (deep abscesses) which may or may not be readily relieved. Third, all these patients are impotent.

"However, there is so much to gain from this operation in these cases, except in young persons in whom impotence is important, that we believe it should be recommended."

Remember, an early diagnosis must and can be made only by rectal examination and biopsy; for when symptoms do occur the disease is no longer in the stage in which surgical removal is likely to be effective.

That's the Danger!

Edson's Washington News Notebook

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA)—Washington officials caution against expecting too much from the direct negotiations between the United States and Red China at Geneva.

There is as yet no indication that the "new spirit" discovered by the Big Four heads of government two weeks ago, in dealing with western European issues, extends to the Far East. Certainly it does not reach down to the relatively low diplomatic level at which the new series of talks with the Red Chinese will be conducted.

America's representative in these talks, U. S. Ambassador to Czechoslovakia Ural Alexis Johnson, is a gifted and experienced young diplomat. He is regarded as completely competent to deal on even terms with Red China's Ambassador to Poland, Wang Pingnan, a tough bargainer.

Wang was Red China's principal negotiator at the Indochina cease-fire conference in Geneva a year ago.

THE SUBJECTS WHICH Johnson and Wang planned to talk about, however, were limited primarily to the release of the 11 American airmen and the 40 American civilians still held by Red China. However, in a startling announcement, coming just one hour before the conference was to open, the Chinese Reds revealed the 11 airmen would be freed immediately. No mention was made of the status of the 40 civilians. Three of the civilians are under house arrest, 25 are in jail and 12 have been denied exit visas.

Negotiations for the release of these 51 Americans have been carried on unsuccessfully by many intermediaries, including even U.N. Sec. Gen. Dag Hammarskjold. American and Red Chinese consular officials in Geneva have been discussing their possible release for over a year.

Four months ago the United States announced that the 76 Chinese students who were denied exit permits from the United States after the start of the Korean war would be free to return to the Chinese mainland if they desired.

THERE HAS BEEN NO SUCH freedom of choice for the Americans held by the Red Chinese. They have released the Americans one, two or three at a time and now 11. The apparent effort has been to hold them as hostages. The idea seems to be that this will gain the Reds some better bargaining position with the United States over completely unrelated matters.

India's Prime Minister Nehru and his roving Ambassador H. V. Krishna Menon have been trying to promote the idea that if Communist China would just release the prisoners, the way would be paved for a complete solution of all Far Eastern problems. It isn't that simple, of course.

The talks just opened at Geneva, beyond considering the release of prisoners, will be completely exporatory.

As Secretary of State John Foster Dulles points out, Ambassador Johnson will listen to whatever other matters Ambassador Wang wants to bring up. If they directly involve the U. S. and Red China, this country will be disposed to discuss them and try for peaceful settlement.

THE UNITED STATES has announced that it will not resort to force to settle oustanding differences in Korea, Indochina or the Formosa area. Ambassador Johnson will try to learn at Geneva whether Red China is willing to accept the concept of a cease fire over Quemoy and Matsu.

But any matter affecting the rights of Chiang Kai-shek's Republic of China government on Formosa will not be discussed without Nationalist China participation.

This is still a long way from the direct negotiations between the U. S. and Red China which Senate Foreign Relations Chairman Walter F. George (D-Ga.) has called for in the next six months.

Sec. Dulles has not ruled out the possibility of a future meeting with Red China's Premier and Foreign Minister Chou En-lai. But no one needs to be unduly alarmed that recognition of Red China and its admission to the United Nations is now in sight in a great new era of peace.

Peiping's North Korean Forces Bar to UN Entry

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Aug. 8—Unless Red China withdraws its troops from North Korea and agrees to a plan for the unification of the whole country under the auspices of the United Nations, there is no possibility even of considering the admission of the Peiping government to the UN's Security Council.

This is the plain meaning of a pointed comment by President Eisenhower at his press conference last week the words of which were reported though their significance was generally overlooked. Here is exactly what the President said:

Most people may have forgotten that orginally a United Nations commission was sent to Korea and recommended that an independent government be set up and that the Russians as well as the United States withdraw their troops stationed there as a result of World War II. America did and so did the Russians in 1949 but the Communists then set up a puppet government in North Korea. There may be some theoretical argument for the existence of a North Korean army as an internal faction but there is no valid basis whatsoever for the presence today of a Red China army in North Korea or its occupation of any Korean territory since October 1950. Yet such a realistic fact is overlooked by European governments which are urging the unification of Germany but seem willing to abandon the task of unifying Korea even though this mission was specifically entrusted to the United Nations.

THERE CAN be no settlement of the Korean question without guarantees that the independence of an all-Korean government chosen in free elections will be respected by the Communists.

There can be no settlement of the Formosa issue until free elections can be held inside China so that all Chinese may choose their form of government uncoerced by a dictatorship and its armies.

To admit an aggressor government into the UN now would cause the leaders of both political parties in the United States to demand withdrawal of America from the UN. They are on record to that effect. The loss of this country to the UN is too big a price for European countries to pay to appease the Communists in the interest of trade or anything else. For if America splits with its allies on the Red China issue it could conceivably affect foreign aid and other U.S. relations with Europe.

The President's remarks at his press conference show why admission of Red China to the UN is unthinkable on the basis of anything that has happened thus far. But they also constructively point out the course Red China must follow if she wants to be taken into the family of civilized nations.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Geneva, Aug. 3 — I am remaining in Geneva to scrutinize the International Labor Office, a socialist bureaucracy embracing 60 nations which occupies a palace on the shore of Lake Geneva, just down hill from the palace of the United Nations. For today I will defer that subject, however, to reflect on the so-called summit conference, the latest of a hundred such efforts, all of them futile down to now, which have been held since Versailles. Their names come fleetingly to mind—Locarno, Stresa, Quebec, Casablanca, Yalta, San Francisco, Potsdam and over, and over Geneva.

Geneva is a friendly, comfortable city which actually, by no design of her own, makes a profitable commerce of "peace" and international politics. She is also, necessarily, a center of constant intrigue which probably escapes the local people. Nicolai Lenin holed up here until the Kaiser's government, in desperation, gave him transportation to Kerensky's Russia to massacre not only the royalty and nobility but all other patriotic, superior Russians who loved their homeland and were religious in the passive habitual sense of many Christians.

About the same time, we let Leon Trotsky out of New York and, though the British delayed him at Halifax, they also let him go on, another tiny incident in a ghastly program of errors which brought our President to Geneva in 1955, 38 years later, to flash the sunshine of his smile on the Soviet delegation and wheedle again for peace.

The Germans underestimated the insensate brutality of the Communists and figured that this would be a controlled revolution. Kerensky was trying to bring the wretched rabble of the Russian army to a stand against a few sick-and-sore divisions of low-grade German troops.

The Germans plainly did not know the potentially extreme cost of this revolution which they were fomenting across their border. In time, the Red treachery leaked, then flowed in a great tide into their own land and hatred of Hitler never can expunge the fact that Russian bolshevism was the first enemy of the patriotic German movement known first as national socialism.

Good Germans tried to depict their situation to us but we called them all damned Nazis and refused to listen. In our own turn, we learned, thanks very much to Elizabeth Bentley, Whittaker Chambers, J. B. Matthews, Louis Budenz and others. But, by a strange quirk, many of our people, including publishers, so-called educators, ministers of religion, writers, actors and the Roosevelt-Truman regime as a whole still deride the patriotic impulse and, far from helping Martin Dies, Joe McCarthy, Roy Cohn and other such, belittle them, with scurrilous defamations wantonly invented.

The Germans had gone through that madness. Insurrectors had seized unloaded guns from irresolute soldiers under flabby political mountebanks and chased them to their barracks. The same thing happened to portly, middle-aged, uniformed cops at Dearborn, Mich.

The hero of the American resistance was Captain Mooney of the Chicago police, who drew a deadline and killed 11 rioters trying to break into a steel plant and slaughter American workers for staying on their jobs. Mooney stopped that insurrection cold. Senator Bob La Follette, under manipulation tried to make a bloody-handed butcher of Mooney but he had turned the tide. La Follette finally killed himself.

Now what did Eisenhower accomplish here?

The superficial fan who tags after heroes, will insist that Ike's "personality" won a psychological victory on both sides of the several so-called curtains. Well, Roosevelt gave us that stuff back in 1933. To my shame, I thought this grinning charlatan a better man than Herbert Hoover who showed in his expression a concentration on great perils to our people. The Russians, too, were strangely affable here but their demeanor is always a mechanical process like that of a movie actor. Whoever believes they have abandoned their dedicated purpose to destroy our civilization and wipe out the religion of which their own regime is a beneficiary simply ignores recorded declarations by all their prophets including bloody-handed V. M. Molotov, who was here in person.

Probably, as Ike hopes, there will be no violent war now. It may never come. It would hurt the Communists as much as us and why should they destroy a prize beyond price which will be theirs intact, in time, if we continue to sneer at people who expose traitors?

The Poles are not deceived by Ike's grin. We saw the true nature of the Red in the Polish party in the press headquarters when they poured vodka for hours to celebrate the anniversary of Russia's conquest of Poland. To our disgrace as a profession, a few Americans drank with them.

Ike was going to insist on discussion of the captivity of Poland. The Russians ignored him. And the captive people whom Roosevelt betrayed and Truman and Ike, himself, abandoned, are still prisoners of the same enemy that planted Harry Dexter White in the treasury.

Check Passer Is Leading Man on Most-Wanted List

Washington, Aug. 8 (AP)—The FBI today listed among its "10 most wanted men" Jack Raymond, 34, transcontinental bad check artist who travels with a girl friend said to be adept in the same line.

The FBI says Raymond has been in trouble with the police since he was a child and has passed checks in no fewer than 29 states as well as several Canadian provinces.

HE WAS convicted for forgery and as an habitual criminal in the State of Washington 18 months ago, but sprung his handcuffs and escaped from a prison van at Kennewick while being transferred to the state penitentiary at Walla Walla.

The FBI said Raymond some time ago abandoned his wife and joined forces with ex-convict Helen Virginia Gibbs, who poses as his wife in the swindling of stores where they make purchases by check.

THE FILES note that Raymond in 1954 sent a Christmas card to police at Everett, Wash., reporting "having a wonderful time." The fugitive enclosed a rubber check.

Raymond usually carries a gun, or guns, and the FBI said Miss Gibbs, 34, is also "possibly armed and should be considered dangerous."

Raymond, a native of Helena, Mont., is of medium height and weight with a cut scar at the center of his forehead and a mole on the right side of his nose. He is reputed to have multiple sclerosis, which has affected his vision and his legs.

On the "most wanted" list, Raymond replaces Patrick McDermott, convicted slayer of editor Don R. Mellett of the Canton, Ohio, Daily News. McDermott was picked up in New York city July 19 after escaping from prison.

During 1954, shipments of registered Holsteins were made to 27 nations. Recent years have shown marked increase in export activity, particularly among South American countries.

Limestone Booms

Alpena, Mich. (AP) — The nation's largest source for limestone is the claim of the lower Great Lakes area, following the reopening of the Stoneport quarry of the Presque Isle Corp. —an investment of 15 million dollars. The quarry is one of several in the area shipping limestone to the nation's steel plants.

Acquitted by Army Of Slaying Husband

Camp Sendai, Japan, Aug. 8 (AP)—Mrs. Romola Abidin of Bayside, N. Y., was acquitted yesterday by a U. S. army court-martial of the Cherry Blossom Lane slaying of her husband.

After sitting through four hours of suspense while the court debated the verdict, Mrs. Abidin staggered slightly and sobbed when Brig. Gen. Herbert R. Vander Heide informed her: "It is my duty to advise you the court has found you not guilty."

She embraced her father, Louis Viviano of Bayside, and rushed off to join her three children — Bobby, 7, Ronny, 6, and Randy, 4.

"I guess I'm about the happiest man in the world today," Viviano said. "I've got my daughter back." He said they want to leave for Bayside in a week or so.

2,500 Russians Get Lord's Supper At Baptist Service

Moscow, Aug. 8 (AP)—A Baptist preacher from Virginia administered the Lord's Supper to 2,500 Russians here last night in the first such ceremony by an American Protestant since the Bolsheviks came to power.

"We were very impressed with the devotion of the worshippers," said Dr. Theodore F. Adams, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Richmond who is visiting the Soviet Union with three other Baptist clergymen.

DR. ADAMS SAID he was "startled at the amazing number of young people and men in the congregation" which filled the Moscow Baptist Church for the three-hour service.

Dr. Adams, new head of the World Baptist Alliance, said he "thought it a very high honor" to be asked to conduct the service.

Dr. Arnold T. Ohrn of Washington, D. C., general secretary of the alliance, preached the sermon on "The Cross and Resurrection."

The four American clergymen arrived in Moscow Saturday as guests of Russian Baptists. The others are Dr. Joseph H. Jackson, a Negro pastor from Chicago, and Dr. V. Carney Hargorves of Philadelphia.

Marilyn Offered TV Role She Wants

Hollywood, Aug. 8 (AP)—Curvaceous Marilyn Monroe has been offered a chance to appear on television in the type of role she says she wants.

Albert McCleery, producer of a projected series of dramas to begin on NBC-TV, said yesterday he has asked Miss Monroe to star in "The Brothers Karamazov."

Said McCleery, "naturally, it would be impossible to pay Miss Monroe the level of Hollywood salary to which she is accustomed and which she deserves."

There was no immediate reply from Miss Monroe or her studio, 20th Century-Fox. The actress has been in the east since she tiffed with the studio over her dramatic aspirations.

4 Deaths, Damage Left by Storms That Broke Heat

New York, Aug. 8 (AP)—Rough thunderstorms and gusty winds broke a long drouth and heat wave for New York city and surrounding areas late yesterday and last night but also left a trail of damage and four deaths.

The city ws sweltering in its 17th day of heat over 90 degrees this summer when the first of a series of storms broke. Within an hour the temperature dropped 17 degrees from 91.1 to 74.

Heavy torrents of rain fell on the city and surrounding countryside where farmers and suburban householders had seen crops and lawns wither in a drouth of more than a month.

UP TO MIDNIGHT, when the worst of the storms had passed, rainfall in the city was measured at 2.17 inches. During the whole month of July only .37 inches of rain had fallen.

The cooling, drouth-quenching storms had their violent side. Trees were toppled and power lines were down. In nearby Newark, N. J., three persons were killed by a fallen electric wire.

Lightning added to the damage and death. A golfer on Long Island was killed by lightning, and another was seriously injured in Brooklyn while standing under a tree for shelter.

NEAR MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., lightning caused a $50,000 barn fire on the farm of John Hendrickson. Some stock was saved, but nine calves died in the blaze.

At Southington, Conn., another barn burned in a lightning fire that killed a cow, destroyed 30 tons of hay and caused damage estimated at $20,000.

Wind gusts blew up to 50 miles an hour. At White Plains, N. Y., store windows were shattered. An 11-year-old girl was badly cut when a window blew out in a store doorway where she had sought shelter in Long Island City, Queens.

In the Greenwich, Conn., area 14,000 customers went without electricity for an hour after lightning struck a substation of the Connecticut Light and Power Co. at Stamford.

THE DEATHS in Newark resulted from a live wire falling on top of a small delivery truck in which four persons had sought safety from the storm.

One of those killed was John Gomez, 24, of Newark, who was passing by when he heard screams from the inside of the truck. He was electrocuted when he tried to open the door to help.

Dead inside the truck was Mrs. Fannie Read, 35, of Newark, an expectant mother, and 10-month-old Bryan Patterson, also of Newark. Bryan's mother and another child escaped from the truck without injury.

KILLED by lightning on the golf course at Bethpage was David M. Miller, 23, of (2 Fernwood St.) Mamaroneck, N. Y. He and two others were trying to finish their game before the rain got too heavy.

In Brooklyn Sol Della, 40, was standing under a tree when lightning hit. Coney Island Hospital later reported he was in serious condition.

Along the Atlantic shore, where millions had sought relief from the heat earlier in the day, waves rolled up 6 to 10 feet high. Five persons were pulled from the water near Rockaway, and four at Riis Park, Queens.

SOME SMALL boats failed to make port before the storm hit. The coast guard reported 49 emergency calls were received from craft off the Long Island and New Jersey coasts.

Near Rockaway Point, Queens, a fishing boat capsized, spilling two Brooklyn men. A police helicopter spotted the accident and rescued the men by dropping a life preserver on a rope and then towing them 300 yards to shore.

Another helicopter noticed a cabin cruiser in distress half a mile from Brighton Beach, Brooklyn. A police launch was dispatched and towed the boat to safety.

THEY'RE DUE SOMETHING FROM UNION — Pasadena, Calif., police department criminologist Don Harding checks one of four safes burned open in Pasadena's Labor Temple by thieves with a thwarted sense of humor. They escaped with some $500, incinerated another $500 worth of cash and checks with their torches, and left a "This Job Is Non-Union" sign in front of the wrecked safes. Union members will be glad to put in a little free overtime going over the thieves, if they catch them.

FINANCING PROMOTIONS

Uranium, oil and metal speculations are clogging the securities markets. One can buy them from a few cents to a few dollars a share. Ninety per cent of them are saturated with risk. Yet, because investors can buy a lot of shares for a few dollars, they have become popular.

These promotions are financed far too often in America by small investors who can't afford to lose a dime. Possible losses are so prohibitive that only speculators whose tax bills warrant heavy risk-taking should buy such shares.

Sound speculation has made economic America great. But when flimsy enterprises are launched primarily to attract the small capital of thrifty investors, great harm can be done to the nation and to some of its people.

There is plenty of promotion money in America. No idea or enterprise with a fair chance of success need lack for dollars. It is just a question of going to the right people for the capital.

Let us suppose, for example, that somewhere in America there is promising uranium, gold, silver, oil and other mineral acreage. A mining geologist collaborates with a mining engineer in attesting to its potential wealth.

THE ENGINEER says it will take $500,000 of risk money to find out what's there. A corporation finance authority is brought in. He is an expert on risk. What does he advise? That 5,000,000 common shares to sell at 10 cents each be issued and sold to gullible investors who, without savings accounts, insurance contracts or sound investments, should have nothing to do with such a promotion?

No, he does not. Yet, recognizing the economic possibilities of the development, he sets about to raise the necessary capital from different people.

Who should finance promotions, anyhow? Those people in America in the higher tax brackets who can afford to take substantial losses from year to year. In fact, our country's tax structure is perfectly set up to encourage persons with large incomes to assume great risks.

My idea of the proper way to finance a $500,000 uranium enterprise in 1955 is to organize a small syndicate of from 10 to 20 speculators who are paying substantial federal income taxes yearly and have each speculator sink either $25,000 or $50,000 into it.

If by 1960 all is lost (90 per cent of all promotions fail), they can stand it because they are in the high tax brackets. Speculation of the nature I am discussing here should be engaged in only by those who can afford to take a 100 per cent loss for the sake of a 1000 per cent capital gain.

The pathetic thing about so much of the present day speculation in new ventures is that so many people of small means get drawn into it. Chasing economic rainbows becomes a habit.

Here, for example, is a young man in his early thirties. He has bought 2000 shares of a promotion uranium stock for 20 cents a share. It has gone down to 13 cents a share. Probably it isn't worth anything.

In the battle for this young man's savings, the insurance salesman was a bad second. The romance of uranium won over the sound economics of insurance. Yet how much better off he would have been if he had put that $400 into a $15,000 life insurance policy:

Gleam in Foe's Eyes Wins Slam

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

How does a good player climb all the way up to seven clubs in today's hand? The simple answer is short: Bad bidding. The full story is that this was the last rubber, and North-South were far behind. So North and South bid the hand up to the hilt, and perhaps even farther than that.

West opened the deuce of diamonds, intent on avoiding a lead that might cost a trick. Declarer won in dummy with the ace, cashed the ace of spades, and ruffed a spade in the hope of finding a favorable situation in that suit. When nothing dropped South relapsed into a rather glum study of the hand.

As South was looking for a way to make 13 tricks, he noticed that East was tense and that West seemed rather pleased with the situation. What could make West so happy to be defending against a grand slam?

South decided to act on his suspicion, so he led a club and finessed dummy's nine! This held, of course, and West indignantly clutched his cards closer to his chest.

South now ruffed another spade with his last low trump and led out all three of his high diamonds. He was playing West for four trumps to the jack, in which case East was already out of trumps. As expected, the diamonds all went through, and dummy could get rid of the two low hearts.

South now led a heart to dummy's ace, ruffed a spade with the queen of trumps, ruffed a heart with dummy's ten, ruffed another spade with the king of trumps, and took the last trick with dummy's trump ace. Poor West had to waste trumps on the last three tricks without even being in overuff position.

Perhaps the moral is to save your satisfaction until the hand is all over.

Steam Threshers Return

Bryan, Ohio (AP)—Remember the Avery 40? If you grew up in the Midwest wheat belt you may know this was one of the old steam operated threshing machines, now displaced by combines. More than 4,000 Americans who remember the steam-power harvesters have joined the National Threshers Assn., organized 10 years ago by a handful of old steam operators in nearby Alverton. They had 30 of the old machines at their latest annual meeting. Focal point of the meeting was firing up one of the venerable machines for a short demonstration of old-time steam threshing—the way it was done 50 years ago.

Man Arrested In Tavern Murder

New York, Aug. 8 (AP)—A 28-year-old man has been charged with the slaying of a popular Brooklyn tavern keeper whose friends turned out to help police track down his killer.

William Horowitz, 66, was stabbed to death in his bar after the closing hour Saturday morning. Neighbors declared they would scour the area for clues.

Yesterday police were tipped that the man they sought could be found at 716 Madison street, Brooklyn. They went there and arrested Edgar Murdaugh, a negro, on a charge of homicide.

Police said Murdaugh, a painter and father of two, admitted the killing. They said he hid in the tavern until it closed and then tried to hold up Horowitz for $600.

When Horowitz resisted and called for help, police said, the holdup man stabbed him and left without the money.

Murdaugh was held without bail.

Milk Drivers' Talks Postponed

New York, Aug. 8 (AP)—Negotiators for strike-threatening milk tank truck drivers have scheduled further bargaining talks for tomorrow.

The announcement postponed for another 24 hours a strike deadline that had been set for today.

The 1,000 drivers, who could tie up milk supplies for 12 million persons in the metropolitan area, had originally threatened to walk out a week ago yesterday when their contract expired.

AFTER A FIVE hour meeting Saturday with negotiators for 23 milk hauling companies, Samuel Gelman, chairman of the AFL Teamsters Bargaining Committee, announced.

"Negotiations are progressing satisfactorily. Between now and the Tuesday session, both sides will consider additional data developed at today's session."

The teamsters had originally sought boosts of 43 to 53 cents an hour in the base pay rate of $1.57 to $1.77 an hour. Since then they have made an undisclosed reduction in demands.

THE DRIVERS also sought a number of other contract benefits, including a reduction in the present 48-hour week.

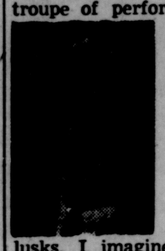

The employers' last reported pay offer, rejected by the union, would have provided up to a 25-cent hourly increase over a three-year period.

Performing Clams

By FRANK TRIPP

You can find people yet who don't believe there are such things as trained fleas and a flea circus. So perhaps this yarn about a troupe of performing clams hasn't much chance of acceptance farther inland than Sandy Hook.

Nevertheless I once had a troupe of performing clams. It wasn't something you could cart about the country as a flea circus is transported, because trick clams are very temperamental creatures.

Though clams are mollusks, I imagine you'll let me call them temperamental creatures; at least concede that much, and keep an open mind while I tell you a strange story about ordinary chowder clams.

When my children were young I spent much time on the beach with them, along the Jersey Coast. I had more fun than they did.

One day, right at the water's edge, where tiny ripples of a pond-calm ocean rolled lazily in and out over the fine, soft sand, leaving it barely damp one moment, and under an inch of salt water the next, I came upon my performing clams.

THERE WERE SIX of them, all lowly Quahogs, of the size and number to make a likely serving, either with or without cocktail sauce. That was my first thought about them. Then I noticed something I never knew about round, hard clams—something the encyclopedias attribute only to soft, mud clams.

They were moving and more or less in unison. I always thought hard clams just got kicked about by the waves. In fact it never occurred to me that there could be any place that a clam could care to go—but there is.

After they had got halfway there I yanked them back on the beach and called the kids. Soon there was a crowd of youngsters about and I was giving a lecture on clams — performing clams, disappearing clams.

I FOUND THAT I could control the activity of the clams according to where I placed them with respect to the ebb and flow of the water. Through this secret I could command certain clams to roll up on edge and they would. Others, placed only a few inches away, I could command to lie still and to the amazement of the children the orders were obeyed.

Then, while the kids played with four of the clams I placed a child's beach pail over the other two, did a bit of magician's hocus-pocus and had a boy sit on the pail. In a few minutes I asked him to give me the two clams. He lifted the pail and said, with astonishment, "Mister, they're gone!" Indeed they were gone—but no far; just under the sand.

You can't find performing clams on any beach nor on any day. Everything has to be just right—including your inclination to play with clams. But I found some several times thereafter.

IF THE DAMP SAND and the lap of lazy ripples is just right, a beach-bound hard clam will behave like a soft clam; open its shell about an inch and thrust out its tongue.

Its tongue is what many think is the best part of the clam; that solid, muscle part. It protrudes some distance, bores into the sand and slowly the clam will rise until it stands upright, with its hinge upward, its open jaws downward and its tongue in the sand.

Then slowly it sucks its way into the damp, soft sand and disappears. Move it a foot from the right spot and it will lie like a stone until the tide or waves take it back to sea.

That's all I know about clams; 'cept that they're mighty good eatin'.

HEALTH FOR ALL

HANG YOUR CLOTHES ON A HICKORY LIMB

As summer moves along, and the temperature shows a tendency to climb beyond the comfortable point, a cool swim can be a most refreshing break in the day. Then the beach or the old swimming hole has great attractions.

What a disappointment it is to arrive at a favorite bathing spot, only to find a sign that says firmly, "No Swimming!" On a hot day, that makes us cross, and our irritation is likely to be directed at the sign rather than at the condition that makes it necessary.

All too often, swimming is unsafe because the water is not clean. And the problem is of clean water not just for swimming, but for drinking, washing, and all the other personal and industrial uses to which we put this indispensable material.

Water cleans itself, up to a certain point. But today as our cities and towns and industries grow, vast amounts of waste material are poured into rivers and lakes. If more waste is being dumped into it than the water can purify by its natural processes, it becomes polluted and unsafe. In that case, the waste must be purified before it is drained into the water. Otherwise water, which we must have for life itself, becomes a danger to us. It becomes a disease carrier, and the "No Swimming!" sign that goes up may be the least of our problems. It may be a life-saver.

FINANCING PROMOTIONS

Uranium, oil and metal speculations are clogging the securities markets. One can buy them from a few cents to a few dollars a share. Ninety per cent of them are saturated with risk. Yet, because investors can buy a lot of shares for a few dollars, they have become popular.

These promotions are financed far too often in America by small investors who can't afford to lose a dime. Possible losses are so prohibitive that only speculators whose tax bills warrant heavy risk-taking should buy such shares.

Sound speculation has made economic America great. But when flimsy enterprises are launched primarily to attract the small capital of thrifty investors, great harm can be done to the nation and to some of its people.

There is plenty of promotion money in America. No idea or enterprise with a fair chance of success need lack for dollars. It is just a question of going to the right people for the capital.

Let us suppose, for example, that somewhere in America there is promising uranium, gold, silver, oil and other mineral acreage. A mining geologist collaborates with a mining engineer in attesting to its potential wealth.

THE ENGINEER says it will take $500,000 of risk money to find out what's there. A corporation finance authority is brought in. He is an expert on risk. What does he advise? That 5,000,000 common shares to sell at 10 cents each be issued and sold to gullible investors who, without savings accounts, insurance contracts or sound investments, should have nothing to do with such a promotion?

No, he does not. Yet, recognizing the economic possibilities of the development, he sets about to raise the necessary capital from different people.

Who should finance promotions, anyhow? Those people in America in the higher tax brackets who can afford to take substantial losses from year to year. In fact, our country's tax structure is perfectly set up to encourage persons with large incomes to assume great risks.

My idea of the proper way to finance a $500,000 uranium enterprise in 1955 is to organize a small syndicate of from 10 to 20 speculators who are paying substantial federal income taxes yearly and have each speculator sink either $25,000 or $50,000 into it.

If by 1960 all is lost (90 per cent of all promotions fail), they can stand it because they are in the high tax brackets. Speculation of the nature I am discussing here should be engaged in only by those who can afford to take a 100 per cent loss for the sake of a 1000 per cent capital gain.

The pathetic thing about so much of the present day speculation in new ventures is that so many people of small means get drawn into it. Chasing economic rainbows becomes a habit.

Here, for example, is a young man in his early thirties. He has bought 2000 shares of a promotion uranium stock for 20 cents a share. It has gone down to 13 cents a share. Probably it isn't worth anything.

In the battle for this young man's savings, the insurance salesman was a bad second. The romance of uranium won over the sound economics of insurance. Yet how much better off he would have been if he had put that $400 into a $15,000 life insurance policy:

HEALTH FOR ALL

HANG YOUR CLOTHES ON A HICKORY LIMB

As summer moves along, and the temperature shows a tendency to climb beyond the comfortable point, a cool swim can be a most refreshing break in the day. Then the beach or the old swimming hole has great attractions.

What a disappointment it is to arrive at a favorite bathing spot, only to find a sign that says firmly, "No Swimming!" On a hot day, that makes us cross, and our irritation is likely to be directed at the sign rather than at the condition that makes it necessary.

All too often, swimming is unsafe because the water is not clean. And the problem is of clean water not just for swimming, but for drinking, washing, and all the other personal and industrial uses to which we put this indispensable material.

Water cleans itself, up to a certain point. But today as our cities and towns and industries grow, vast amounts of waste material are poured into rivers and lakes. If more waste is being dumped into it than the water can purify by its natural processes, it becomes polluted and unsafe. In that case, the waste must be purified before it is drained into the water. Otherwise water, which we must have for life itself, becomes a danger to us. It becomes a disease carrier, and the "No Swimming!" sign that goes up may be the least of our problems. It may be a life-saver.

Wild Cranberries

Cranberries grew wild in America before the co... the white man, and the American Indians knew how to make a cranberry sauce using maple sugar.

According to the Sunday, July 31st, New York Herald Tribune, the village of Rhinebeck is seeking an "old Hudson River steamboat that can be "docked" on land and used as a museum. It would be restored to its original condition and "manned" by a crew dressed in costumes of the period. Villagers want the boat as a memorial to the old river days that played "such a major part" in the early Rhinebeck history." The while the keel is laid for the 1956 Mayflower, at Brixham, Devon, England. This copy of the original famous vessel is scheduled to be ready by February of 1956, to cross the Atlantic on a good will tour of America. Among the passengers will be descendants of the Pilgrims and one immigrant family.

So Rhinebeck wants a Marine Museum, where have I heard that before. Mystic, Connecticut manages to get a great deal of free publicity because of her Marine Museum and she is continually adding to it. The Brinkerhoff ferry which ran between Highland and Poughkeepsie is up there as most folks know. No doubt it pays off to have a Marine Museum. The Indians told us all about our waterways back in 1652 but we are not so sure yet that we have them and only recently that we once more got our swimming beach back, on the Hudson. One of the largest business enterprises today is not only the auto industry but also the outboard motor trade. According to the Outboard Boating Club of America, people who enjoy the American waterways will spend more than $150,000,000 this year for some 500,000 outboard motors and some of them will be seen right on our own Hudson river and Rondout creek. Just imagine now if, along any of the docks or Kingston Point Park, we also had a Marine Museum and did not 'miss the boat' on letting some of our finest historical items rot right in our own waterways. The replica of the "Clermont" Robert Fulton's steamboat could have been kept in repair and a museum item down in Kingston Point. These were the conditions under which it was given to the Park. This was all brought out in detail in this column a number of times. In fact, the Clermont was supposed to be kept in running order in case any State Naval affair took place on our waters the Clermont could take part. All that is left, is the keel and the ribs which can be seen only at low tide. The machinery of course was taken out long ago.

Can you imagine how the various Marine Museums would dicker for the Mary Powell if she was in as good condition as she was, when she was placed in her watery grave in the Rondout Creek near Connelly. She certainly represented the old river days of the Hudson, Rondout Creek and Kingston. The Skillyput ferry, which the older residents can't forget and the younger generation seems so interested in is also in the same watery grave near the Mary Powell. That is our Marine Museum. The old Norwich is another fine steamboat which played a large part in the history of the Hudson river and creek. One of the latest spots to hit the news for a museum is of course Ellis Island. Who wants it? Why New Jersey, and they are fighting to get it and make it also a museum and recreation center.

Confident About Profit

Ogdensburg, N. Y., Aug. 8 (AP)—Economic boom? Well, the Rutland Railway reports a net profit of $75,685 for the first six months of this year. In the corresponding period of 1954, the railroad lost more than $117,000. Said the cautious report: "In spite of the fact that . . . this company has made a profit in only two years in the last quarter of a century . . . The management is confident that this railroad can be operated profitably."

Sioux Maiden Named Miss American Indian

Sheridan, Wyo., Aug. 8 (AP)—Rita Ann McLaughlin, 24-year-old Hunkpapa Sioux, was named Miss Indian America III last night at the annual All-American Indian Days celebration.

She works as a dental technician with the U. S. Public Health Service on the Crow Indian reservation in Montana.

Her Indian name is Minneweyakpahwin, meaning "shining water woman."

Miss McLaughlin succeeded Miss Mary Louise Defender, a Yantkonnais Sioux from Fort Yates, N. D. The new queen will be a guest at the Miss America pageant in Atlantic City, N. J., next month.

Runnerup honors went to Wynema Rose Archambault, a Pawnee from Cherry Point, N. C.

At a Sunday afternoon ceremony, Chief Justice N. B. Johnson of the Oklahoma Supreme Court was presented a plaque as the outstanding American Indian of 1954-1955. He was picked earlier by a panel of judges named by the Freedom Foundation.

Some 3,500 Indians from 40 tribes and 20 states closed two days of events with a display of arts and craft last night.

The pageant opened Saturday with a parade witnessed by a large crowd that included three visiting Russian farm experts.

Retired Mediator's Funeral Tomorrow

Scarsdale, N. Y., Aug. 8 (AP)—Funeral services will be held tomorrow at White Plains, N. Y., for Arthur S. Meyer, former chairman of the New York State Mediation Board.

Meyer, 75, died Saturday at his home here (31 Mamaroneck road).

Meyer, a widely known labor peacemaker, was involved in some capacity in almost every labor dispute in New York city from 1937 to 1950.

For 25 years Meyer was a successful businessman, rising to the presidency of the Schulte Real Estate Co., and vice presidency of the Schulte Retail Stores Corp.

In 1937—at the age of 57—Meyer gave up his business connections and became a member of the state's first mediation board. He became chairman three years later, and retired from the board in 1950.

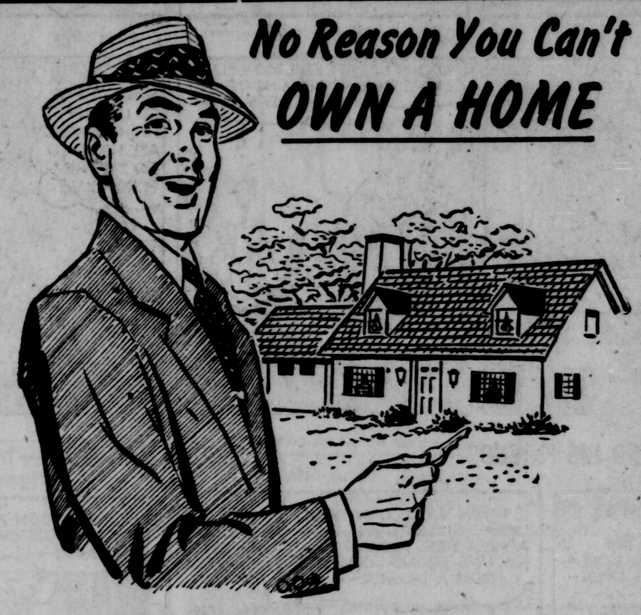

Meyer leaves his wife, Mrs. Marion Wolff Meyer; two sons, Daniel W. of Scarsdale and Leonard B. of Chicago; a daughter, Carolyn; a brother, Leonard B. of New York, and a sister, Mrs. Jerome Micahel of New York.

Governor Establishes Civil Service Board

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 8 (AP)—Gov. Harriman has simplified the selection of the board that hears state employes' grievances which cannot be settled at the departmental level.

In an executive order Saturday, the governor established a three-man board to be appointed by the president of the State Civil Service Commission.

Two members will be taken from outside state service. The third will be an employe of the Civil Service Department. Each department is to establish its own grievance procedures, subject to approval by the grievance board.

The order supersedes a system in force since February, 1950.

Under the previous arrangement, established by former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the chairman of the panel was chosen from outside state service. The two other members were taken from two rotating panels of state employes in the competitive and non-competitive classes.

The scheme has been criticized as cumbersome and unworkable. The new plan has been approved by the State Civil Service Employes Assn.

Locomotive Earnings Decrease, Orders Up

Schenectady, N. Y., Aug. 8 (AP)—Earnings were down but orders were up in the first half of 1955 compared with the same period of last year, Alco Products Inc. reports.

The locomotive-manufacturing concern said yesterday that its earnings for the first six months of this year were $2,087,000, equal to 81 cents a common share. For the 1954 period the earnings were $2,521,000 or $1.04 a share.

President Perry T. Egbert said second-quarter earnings in 1955 were $1,208,000, equal after preferred dividends to 50 cents a common share.

Alco, formerly called the American Locomotive Co., was producing army tanks in volume in the early part of 1954. Shipments totaled $144,983,000 compared with $57,075,000 in the first six months of 1955.

Egbert said the volume of orders was 65 per cent greater in the first half of this year.

New Glider Record

Palmdale, Calif., Aug. 8 (AP)—A new national glider distance record of 270 miles has been claimed by Paul F. Bikle, a civilian worker at nearby Edwards Air Force Base. Bikle, competing in the 1955 Southwestern Soaring Regatta yesterday flew his sailplane from Mirage Dry Lake to Essex, Calif., and back. Regatta officials said this eclipses the old mark of 260 miles set in 1952 by William H. Cloverdale of Philadelphia.

Ball Services Tuesday

Hollywood, Aug. 8 (AP)—Funeral services will be conducted tomorrow at 2 p. m., for Actress Suzan Ball at the Church of the Recessional in Forest Lawn Memorial Park, Glendale. Miss Ball, wife of actor Richard Long, died of cancer Friday at the age of 21. The services are to be conducted by Dr. Louis H. Evans, minister-at-large for the Presbyterian Church.

Old Trees Dying

Urbana, Ill. (AP)—Elm trees on the University of Illinois campus are on their last legs. Robert S. Chamberlain, the university's superintendent of operations, says all the 1,600 elms are expected to succumb to Dutch elm disease in the next two years. The elm arched Broadwalk in the heart of the campus, one of the famous sights of the university, has lost 48 of its 117 elms which are 81 years old.

Harriman Says He Plans to Cut Spending

New York, Aug. 8 (AP)—Gov. Averell Harriman says New York state taxes may have to be increased next year.

He adds that he is making an "earnest effort" to cut state spending, so as to avert any tax hike.

Harriman voiced the view yesterday on the "Eye on New York" filmed television program over WCBS-TV.

He cited the report of the Temporary State Commission on the Study of the Fiscal Affairs of State Government. The report, he said, emphasized that "services required by the people were going to increase faster than the increase of income from existing taxes."

"IF THAT prediction is right, taxes may have to go up," the governor said, adding:

"I am going to try my best to cut out expenditures which are not needed and divert the monies for those things which require additional funds.

"Whether I'll be successful in that I won't predict, but I'm making a very earnest effort to do so."

Harriman said the main financing problems he faces are more provisions for mental institutions, increased hospital facilities, highway improvements and staffing newly built state facilities.

Actress Reconciled

Hollywood, Aug. 8 (AP)—Actress Vanessa Brown and her husband, Dr. Robert A. Franklyn, have announced a reconciliation. Miss Brown said yesterday she will seek a dismissal of the divorce petition filed last April. The Franklyns were married in 1950 and separated last year.

South Is Accused Of Pirating Industrial Plants

Washington, Aug. 8 (AP) — The American Federation of Labor (AFL) has accused some southern communities of "pirating" industrial plants from established sites by advertising low wage rates and antiunion restrictions.

The AFL said industrial migration also is encouraged by municipal offers of financial subsidies and free buildings. It called for congressional action to discourage such practices.

In a report made public last night, the AFL's research depart said:

"IN NO WAY has this study been prepared with any bias or animosity against the South or against Southern industry. It merely is a simple fact that these subsidies have largely been offered in the southern states."

The report, prepared for an AFL Executive Council meeting yeterday in Chicago, said "substandard" wages and "an atmosphere openly hostile to unionism" are "just as much a financial subsidy as outright tax concessions or the free construction of a new plant."

CONTENDING that plant migrations have "seriously jeopardized the welfare of American workers," the AFL study proposed a four-point legislative program:

1. An investigation by the Senate-House committee on the economic report.
2. Make municipal bonds issued to finance industrial construction subject to federal income taxes.
3. Action to "reduce and gradually eliminate" wage differentials among regions, in part by raising the nationwide minimum wage to $1.25 an hour.
4. Enaect nationwide standards of unemployment compensation benefits.

The AFL also asked states to repeal right-to-work laws which ban the union shop

Mayer was standing beside a small pickup truck he had stopped for operating with a defective tail light.

Wyant told police he fell asleep at the wheel and lost control of the tractor-trailer, which was loaded with potatoes.

HAND-ME-DOWN CLOTHES!

A mother asks: "Will you please tell me how to tactfully handle the following situation: My next-door neighbor has a daughter who is a year older than my daughter. They have been friends for a long time. Both our families are in about the same income bracket. Every now and then the mother brings over several dresses that her daughter has outgrown for my daughter. Not wanting to hurt her feelings I have always accepted them but my husband is furious with me for doing this and says that no daughter of his is going to wear someone else's castoffs. He has forbidden me to accept any further clothing from her. This puts me in a spot as I know she means only to be kind and I certainly don't want to do anything to offend her. Your help in this matter will certainly be appreciated."

I think the only thing you can do is to thank her for her very kind intention and say that fortunately Jan has plenty of clothes this year and that the neighboring orphanage, or whatever charity is nearby is really in need of them and could put them to far better use.

Engagement Announcements!

Dear Mrs. Post: I have been told that "according to Emily Post" engraved engagement announcements are in bad taste. If this is true, I would like to know your reason for objecting to them. Why is an engagement announcement in bad taste and a wedding announcement not. I personally cannot see any difference. A notice in the newspaper is all right for those living in town but what about those relatives and friends living in other cities who will not see this notice. How are they notified. My finance and I have many friends and relatives living in distant places and to have to sit down and write notes to all of them would be quite a task.

Answer: Order a number of papers in which your announcement will be in and send them to your friends and relatives. To have engraved engagement announcements has always been considered in really bad taste.

Theodore Riccobono was organist and Miss Barbara Bruck performed the solo.

Given in marriage by her brother, Edward Dasher, the bride wore a gown of white nylon tulle over bridal satin, fashioned with a molded bodice, short sleeves and a portrait neckline. The bodice and skirt featured appliques of re-embroided Alencon lace studded with iridescent sequins. Her bouffant skirt terminated in a circular court train and her bridal cap of rosepoint lace, trimmed with seed pearls, secured her three-quarter length French illusion veil. She carried a white mother-of-pearl prayer book with a white orchid cascade and shower of delphinium.

Mrs. Anne Greco of 14 Crane street was matron of honor. She wore a dress of coral-colored nylon tulle, styled with a molded bodice and bouffant floor length skirt. Bodice and skirt were trimmed with Venise lace medallions. She wore a matching Spencer jacket and a half hat trimmed with forget-me-nots and carried a hand bouquet of blue delphiniums shaded with pink.

The bridegroom's uncle, Anthony Bonomo of 228 Downs street, was best man.

Following a reception for 120 guests at Tommie's on High street, the couple left for Lake George. Mrs. Cozza chose a traveling dress of pink crystallette with navy blue accessories and a white orchid corsage.

The bride attended Kingston High School and is employed at Hercules Powder Co. The groom also attended Kingston High School, served four years in the Air Corps and is now employed by IBM in Poughkeepsie.

The couple will make their home at 50 East Chester street.

State Department Official Hopeful Of Peace Efforts

Boston, Aug. 8 (AP) — Acting Asst. Secretary of State Christopher H. Phillips held out hope today that United Nations efforts for peace and better living standards might flower in a new atmosphere relieved of big power tensions.

Phillips, head of the State Department's section on international organization, said in a talk prepared for a convention of the Massachusetts Federation of Labor:

"THE SUMMIT meeting made it clear that the danger of war has further receded. It now appears that the Soviet Union joins us in realizing that neither side can survive a global atomic-hydrogen war . . . . in the new atmosphere the United Nations will be able to do far more to promote better standards of life."

Specifically, Phillips said, the program pushed by President Eisenhower to turn atomic energy to production for more bountiful lives could be speeded up. Phillips said that "If the Russians are indeed willing to cooperate . . . as they hinted at Geneva," the proposed International Atomic Agency could soon be established under UN auspices.

WHILE HE SAID political differences between nations may not be closer to solution, Phillips added, "we can learn to live with those difficulties while they are being negotiated and the existence of these difficulties need not, as before, prevent us from working together in other areas."

HAND-ME-DOWN CLOTHES!

A mother asks: "Will you please tell me how to tactfully handle the following situation: My next-door neighbor has a daughter who is a year older than my daughter. They have been friends for a long time. Both our families are in about the same income bracket. Every now and then the mother brings over several dresses that her daughter has outgrown for my daughter. Not wanting to hurt her feelings I have always accepted them but my husband is furious with me for doing this and says that no daughter of his is going to wear someone else's castoffs. He has forbidden me to accept any further clothing from her. This puts me in a spot as I know she means only to be kind and I certainly don't want to do anything to offend her. Your help in this matter will certainly be appreciated."

I think the only thing you can do is to thank her for her very kind intention and say that fortunately Jan has plenty of clothes this year and that the neighboring orphanage, or whatever charity is nearby is really in need of them and could put them to far better use.

Engagement Announcements!

Dear Mrs. Post: I have been told that "according to Emily Post" engraved engagement announcements are in bad taste. If this is true, I would like to know your reason for objecting to them. Why is an engagement announcement in bad taste and a wedding announcement not. I personally cannot see any difference. A notice in the newspaper is all right for those living in town but what about those relatives and friends living in other cities who will not see this notice. How are they notified. My finance and I have many friends and relatives living in distant places and to have to sit down and write notes to all of them would be quite a task.

Answer: Order a number of papers in which your announcement will be in and send them to your friends and relatives. To have engraved engagement announcements has always been considered in really bad taste.

The Mature Parent

Here Are Searching 'Why's' Our Youngsters Put to Us

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

One evening about six years ago, the subject of "parents" came up among some students gathered together in a college dormitory. Somebody asked: "What is it in parents that confuses us?"

The question exploded the most animated discussion of their young lives.

One of the girls was so intrigued by what she heard that she decided to do something about it. Her name is Sally Liberman. With a teacher's permission, she undertook as a class project the work of putting the question to some 800 other college students of both sexes representing every state in the nation and every type of family background.

The end result was a book which she called "A Child's Guide to a Parent's Mind." Among its virtues was a list of the most searching "Why's" a child can put to us. So yesterday when Sally came to see me, I asked her for permission to reproduce samples of them in this column. She gave it to me.

Here they are:

Why do parents want to keep their troubles to themselves without ever confiding in their children?

Why do parents want to paint a "rosy" world for their children which is not a real world?

Why is it so important to parents that their children are very social and popular?

Why do parents tell their children to love everyone—and then let the children see them beating each down in business transactions and club rivalries?

Why do parents lean so heavily on what experts in various fields have to say?

Why are children's material achievements such a satisfaction to parents?

Why do parents expect children to trust them when they usually don't trust the children?

Why is there such a division made between the child world and the adult one as though parents and children belonged to different species?

Why do parents complain so much about parental responsibilities?

Why do parents remind children that they're growing up and should be independent—and then demand submissive obedience and dependence?

Why do parents talk in one way—and act in the opposite one?

Why is it so hard for parents to admit that their children have shortcomings and limitations?

A letter from James M. Connors, chairman of the association's legislative committee recently notified the local commission of the appointment, which was made at the annual meeting in Buffalo.

Ties Snapped

New Delhi, Aug. 8 (AP)—Direct diplomatic ties between India and Portugal, at odds over Indian claims to the Portuguese settlements in India, were snapped today with the closing of the Lisbon government's legation here. Portuguese Charge d'Affaires A. B. Laborinho left New Delhi this morning, meeting the deadline set by Prime Minister Nehru two weeks ago. Nehru ordered Portugal to close its legation here because of its "persistent refusal" to negotiate on New Delhi's claim to Goa and the other small Portuguese Indian areas. Portugal asked Brazil to represent it diplomatically in any future contacts with India.

The former beauty contest entrant said her friends in Hilo called her "Tarzan."

The Athabaskan's captain, Lt. Cmdr. Charles Richardson termed the incident "regretable." He said the girl was discovered by a chief petty officer when the ship was one day out of Honolulu. He told newsmen he doesn't know how she got aboard but doubted that she swam to the ship.

"She slept in the navigator's room while he bunked with a buddy," Richardson said. She was under guard but helped out during the day in the kitchen, he added.

The skipper said he didn't think any of his crew of 240 officers and men had anything to do with hiding Joycelyn but added, "I may have to swallow those words."

The Athabaskan arived with her sister ship, HMCS Cayuga. They plan to meet the cruiser HMCS Ontario here and then proceed to Victoria, B. C.

visit to Moscow may tip the Russian attitude on some of them.

Vice President Nixon said yesterday the Geneva summit talks had substantially reduced the chances of war although he added that the basic east-west differences remain. On a television program filmed for use by WHAM-TV at Rochester, N. Y., Nixon said:

"President Eisenhower's leadership convinced not only our allies, but it convinced the Russians also, at least for the moment, that American policy under him is directed toward peaceful solution of differences."

Knowland said he was not disparaging any of the accomplishments of the Geneva summit meeting in attaining a new atmosphere of amicable discussion of international problems.

But he said the result was largely "superficial and has not solved any of the basic problems."

Knowland was critical of developments at another Geneva meeting—that between ambassadors of the United States and Red China now under way.

He continued that the Red Chinese "are trying to get a list of all Chinese noncitizens in this country so they can use cruel and harsh means on their families (in China) to bring pressure for their return."

The Red Chinese have been pressing for release of Chinese who came to this country as students before the Communists took over China. After the Korean War started, this country refused to let many of them leave because skills they had acquired might be useful to Red China in the fighting.

That ban has since been lifted, however, and the State Department has said repeatedly that all the students are now free to go if they wish. Many have chosen to remain.

Knowland said the Reds want a list of them "for blackmail and extortion purposes."

Heat Drops

best to Friday's record high was 99 in 1944.

Saturday's slight rain of .35 of an inch was more than fell throughout the month of July which produced only .24 of an inch, and the total of .59 of an inch is all we have had for the summer since June.

Today's temperature of 65 degrees at 7 a. m., was the lowest, to date, this month, and few of these summer days, even in their early hours, were cooler.

Brisk northerly breezes, said the weather bureau, broke the heat wave in New York state, and in some areas thunderstorms helped temperatures drop.

Massena, in the northern sector, got as much as an inch and a half of rain in six hours.

At Bethpage State Park, L. I., David M. Miller, 23, of Mamaroneck, was struck and killed by lightning while playing golf, and at Middletown lightning struck a large barn, caused a $50,000 fire and killed nine calves.

Reviving Old Custom

Hollywood, Aug. 8 (AP)—Hollywood is reviving an old custom of annually selecting a group of "baby stars," a publicity idea that years ago brought prominence to such budding young film aspirants as Joan Crawford, Clara Bow, Dolores Del Rio and Loretta Young. After a quarter of a century lapse, the tradition is being revived for 1956 by a group of leading figures in the film world. An organization known as the Hollywood Sponsors' Circle announced yesterday that it will choose 13 baby stars each year.

it sound as if he had confessed to a spying mission. "I repudiated that statement at the trial," he said.

His navigator, Capt. Elmer F. Llewellyn of Missoula, Mont., also denied the Red charges.

"We were never in their damned China," Llewellyn shouted, his fists clenched, as he turned from a large map of Korea.

He had just pinpointed a spot on North Korea's west coast, 40 miles south of the Yalu river boundary, as the one where their B29 was downed in flames by combined MIG and anti-aircraft fire.

OTHER OFFICERS in the crew said they had signed statements similar to Arnold's. The enlisted men said they signed statements admitting that the plane may have come down in Red China's Manchuria.

Maj. William H. Baumer, Lewisburg, Pa., who was wounded before he bailed out and later suffered from frostbite and spent much time in the hospital, was the only one who did not sign a statement.

"They started after me but then eased off, probably because of my condition," he said.

Aside from Arnold's tense appearance and Baumer's injuries, the other men were in fairly good condition, air force doctors said.

THEY ARE: Airman Harry Benjamin, Worthington, Minn.; Capt. Eugene Vaadi, Clayton, N. Y.; Lt. Wallace L. Brown, Banks, La.; Capt. John W. Buck, Armathwaite, Tenn.; Airman Steve E. Kiba, Akron, O.; Airman John W. Thompson, Orange, Va.; Sgt. Howard W. Brown, St. Paul, Minn.; and Airman Daniel C. Schmidt, Portland, Ore.

All of them completed exhaustive physical examinations today and all except Arnold talked to their families today.

Airman Schmidt even got through to his wife, Una, at Nevada City, Calif., where she has been in seclusion to avoid publicity because she married another man last September in the belief, she says, that Schmidt was dead. On a few hours after the conversation her attorney announced that she and her second husband, logger Alford Fine, would separate—at least temporarily—"until such time as their problems are solved."

THROUGHOUT the 2½ years in Red prisons, Arnold was the chief target of Communist abuse.

The others said they were subjected to solitary confinement and starvation diets but not the beatings and physical torture the Reds used on Arnold.

He said he once blacked out for 30 hours and had "periods of complete irrationality"

Arnold shook as he talked of beatings, by guards who took the lid off the pail in his cell, dipped a stick inside and then went at him.

"I have to leave out a lot . . . there are some things you don't want to talk about," he said.

would try to win back Una. Fine has said he hopes she will stay with him.

Mrs. Peters quoted Schmidt as asking her, "didn't she get my letters, mom?"

"I could only tell him I didn't know," the mother said. "I do know I sent several of them on to California — there were even pictures in some—it said so on the outside."

Una says she married Fine last September and heard the following November that Schmidt was alive in a Red China prison. She and Schmidt had lived together only a few weeks before he left for the war in the Pacific.

Schmidt and 10 airforce companions were freed by the Chinese last Thursday at Hong Kong. The Chinese accused them of being "spies."

All intimate contacts of both cases received gamma globulin, the commissioner said.

Dr. Hargrave said Ulster county had been "fairly lucky" this year. He explained that very often an area may have a couple of severe years, followed by several mild years. Boston, for example, and the general New England area, has had several mild years recently.

THROUGHOUT the 2½ years in Red prisons, Arnold was the chief target of Communist abuse.

The others said they were subjected to solitary confinement and starvation diets but not the beatings and physical torture the Reds used on Arnold.

He said he once blacked out for 30 hours and had "periods of complete irrationality"

Arnold shook as he talked of beatings, by guards who took the lid off the pail in his cell, dipped a stick inside and then went at him.

"I have to leave out a lot . . . there are some things you don't want to talk about," he said.

Schmidt talks with his mother, Mrs. Ray Peters in Portland, Ore., by means of radio telephone from American Red Cross office at Tachikawa Air Base Hospital, in Japan, Aug. 7. Mrs. Peters quoted Schmidt as asking her, "didn't she get my letters, mom?"

"I could only tell him I didn't know," the mother said. "I do know I sent several of them on to California — there were even pictures in some—it said so on the outside."

Una says she married Fine last September and heard the following November that Schmidt was alive in a Red China prison. She and Schmidt had lived together only a few weeks before he left for the war in the Pacific.

Schmidt and 10 airforce companions were freed by the Chinese last Thursday at Hong Kong. The Chinese accused them of being "spies."

was reported in the southwestern resort section of the county. He is a Brooklyn boy (age not listed). Dr. Hargrave said the diagnosis of polio was made in New York but its "onset" was in Ulster county.

All intimate contacts of both cases received gamma globulin, the commissioner said.

Dr. Hargrave said Ulster county had been "fairly lucky" this year. He explained that very often an area may have a couple of severe years, followed by several mild years. Boston, for example, and the general New England area, has had several mild years recently.

Houston Youth Cops Grass Title

South Orange, N. J., Aug. 8 (AP) — Sam Giammalva, a Houston, Tex., youngster who has been on the upgrade for the past three years, today held his first major tennis title — the Eastern Grass Courts championship.

Just 21 years old, Giammalva eliminated four seeded players including Vic Seixas and Kurt Nielsen, top-ranked American and foreigner, respectively, on the way to the final round. He whipped Gil Shea of Los Angeles, 6-2, 3-6, 11-9, 9-7, in the final yesterday.

This was a three-hour volleying duel between two players who refused to tire in the intense heat.

The turning point came in the third set. After each had taken one set, Shea moved to a 5-4 lead after breaking service on the fifth game. But Giammalva broke through in the 10th to save it. That tied the set at 5-5. Then it followed service until Giammalva broke through again in the 20th game.

(By The Associated Press)

Don Minnick, the Eastern League's leading hurler, seems to be slowing up.

After losing only one game in 18 starts, the Reading whiz now has dropped two in a row.

His latest loss was last night to the Elmira Pioneers 10-6. Elmira's Joe Gushanas got credit for his tenth victory.

It was also the second straight loss for the Indians but this one was more costly than Saturday night's 10-5 defeat by the Pioneers.

ON SATURDAY, the second-place Williamsport Grays obliged the leaders by losing 2-1 to the Allentown Redbirds. But last night the Grays downed the Redbirds 8-3. Don Dangleis held the Birds seven hits and Johnnie Powers belted out two homers.

A man was aboard both times Tedesco his homers for Albany, and his single in the first inning drove in another, giving him five RBIS.

Royals Maintain Two Game Margin With Twin Sweep

(By The Associated Press)

The Montreal Royals, parlaying timely hitting and brilliant pitching, today held a two game lead in the tight International League pennant race.

Four hit pitching of Tom Lasorda and Glenn Mickens and the big bat of centerfielder Gino Cimoli enabled Montreal to sweep a doubleheader from the Toronto Maple Leafs 7-2 and 5-2 yesterday.

WHILE THE Royals were taking command of the league lead the Syracuse Chiefs prevented the Havana Sugar Kings from moving into second place by defeating the Cubans 7-5. The Rochester Red Wings in a game delayed by rain for 45 minutes trounced the Buffalo Bisons 9-3 and the Columbus Jets routed the Richmond Virginians 16-1 after dropping the opener of a twin-bill 10-8.

Cimoli banged out a double and two singles and batted in three runs to lead Montreal's first game victory. Lasorda scattered four Toronto hits, walking two and fanning seven, to pickup his third victory in 10 decisions. Ed Blake started for the Leafs and gave up 10 hits and six runs before giving way to Johnny Hetki in the seventh.

Chopin's famous funeral march does not express grief over the death of an individual, but expresses the Polish composer's feelings over the loss of the independence of his native land.

Aussies Need Ace Lew Hoad In a Big Hurry

Glen Cove, Aug. 8 (AP)—If the Austrialians are to win back the Davis Cup, one thing seems sure —they'll have to put young Lew Hoad back on the varsity.

Rex Hartwig, brilliant but explosive and panicky, definitely can't be trusted with a singles assignment in the two big pressure matches coming up—first Italians, then the Americans.

This was the clearest observation which emerged from the rain-plagued inter-zone matches with Japan at the Nassau Country Club here over the weekend.

WITH HOAD on the bench and possibly in Captain Harry Hopman's "doghouse," Hartwig was given the important singles job with Ken Rosewall against the lightly-regarded Japanese.

He was forced five sets Friday by Kosei Kamo and then yesterday, after requesting he be permitted to play the second match, was carried four sets by Atsushi Miyagi, 3-6, 6-3, 9-7.

The second singles match between Rosewall and Kamo was rained out, with Rosewall leading 3-1 in the first set. This gave Australia a 4-0 score in the series.

Won't Support Adlai

Chicago, Aug. 8 (AP)—Texas' Democratic Gov. Allan Shivers, who fought Adlai Stevenson's candidacy three years ago, still doesn't think Stevenson is presidential timber. "I will oppose the nomination of Mr. Stevenson for president in 1956," Shivers, one of the early arrivals for this week's governors' conference, told a reporter yesterday. "And should he be nominated, I will not support him."

Colonials RainedOut

Rain washed out the Kingston Colonial-Brooklyn Windsor game in the New York-New Jersey Semi-Pro League at the end of one and one half innings Saturday night at Dietz Stadium.

Although charged with two runs, southpaw Bob Maines had struck out five of the ten batters he faced.

No date was set for replaying the contest.

Meanwhile, Manager Fred Davi's squad is scheduled to close out the season next Saturday night against the Uncle Sams of Paterson.

Trailways Braves	0	3

The Island Dock Tigers took their second victory in the National Little League Saturday, edging the Trailways Braves 9-7 at Kingman Park.

Two home runs by the Braves' Bill Reid highlighted the contest.

The Tigers were held scoreless in the first inning but registered in every round thereafter.

JIM RODDEN was the starting pitcher for the Tigers. He was relieved by Jerry Bradford, who got credit for the victory.

Reid, who relieved starter Tom Gerber, was the loser.

One of Reid's home runs was a grand-slammer. The Braves batter had five runs batted in for the day.

The local teen-ager won the Class B hydroplane and Class B stock utility races.

In the championship Class D hydroplane, Miller finished second to Bob Veiga of Troy.

The only other area drivers who competed were Vince DeBerto of Newburgh and Jim Myers of Saugerties. DeBerto won the Class A utility event. Myers was sixth in the Class D utility.

Sam Boulmetis, leading rider at Monmouth Park, was urged by a friend to become a jockey because of his size.

Legion Title To State Nine

Cooperstown, Aug. 8 (AP)— The Henry P. Smith Post of Rome, American Legion junior baseball state champion, will take on the champions of New Jersey, Rhode Island and Connecticut in a regional playoff Saturday.

Rome pounded out 16 hits Saturday to beat the Bell Telephone Post of New York city 10-2 to win the state championship. Warren Edkins contributed a 400-foot home run.

Rome won the state title in its second attempt. Last year a Staten Island team beat the Smith Post in the final.

Rain Curtails Stock Car Races

Things were going well Saturday night at Rhinebeck Speedway when Jupe Pluvius stepped in. Three of the non-Ford qualifying heats had been completed and the modified heat was run when the rains came.

Buddy Dyer, the "Blind Daredevil" succeeded in completing most of his show in the rain until the rain increased and drove "Buddy" and his fans from the track.

Heat winners were Bud Williams, Dave Sleight, Tony Phillips and George Landry.

A DOUBLE feature program will be run on Aug. 20 to complete Saturday's program.

Next week, Aug. 13, the Duke Washburn Memorial sweepstakes will be run with many local drivers and others from as far west as Indiana competing. A 250-lap race for a first prize of $1,000 plus lap money and other cash awards totaling three thousand dollars, is up for grabs.

Royals Maintain Two Game Margin With Twin Sweep

(By The Associated Press)

The Montreal Royals, parlaying timely hitting and brilliant pitching, today held a two game lead in the tight International League pennant race.

Four hit pitching of Tom Lasorda and Glenn Mickens and the big bat of centerfielder Gino Cimoli enabled Montreal to sweep a doubleheader from the Toronto Maple Leafs 7-2 and 5-2 yesterday.

WHILE THE Royals were taking command of the league lead the Syracuse Chiefs prevented the Havana Sugar Kings from moving into second place by defeating the Cubans 7-5. The Rochester Red Wings in a game delayed by rain for 45 minutes trounced the Buffalo Bisons 9-3 and the Columbus Jets routed the Richmond Virginians 16-1 after dropping the opener of a twin-bill 10-8.

Cimoli banged out a double and two singles and batted in three runs to lead Montreal's first game victory. Lasorda scattered four Toronto hits, walking two and fanning seven, to pickup his third victory in 10 decisions. Ed Blake started for the Leafs and gave up 10 hits and six runs before giving way to Johnny Hetki in the seventh.

Aussies Need Ace Lew Hoad In a Big Hurry

Glen Cove, Aug. 8 (AP)—If the Austrialians are to win back the Davis Cup, one thing seems sure —they'll have to put young Lew Hoad back on the varsity.

Rex Hartwig, brilliant but explosive and panicky, definitely can't be trusted with a singles assignment in the two big pressure matches coming up—first Italians, then the Americans.

This was the clearest observation which emerged from the rain-plagued inter-zone matches with Japan at the Nassau Country Club here over the weekend.

WITH HOAD on the bench and possibly in Captain Harry Hopman's "doghouse," Hartwig was given the important singles job with Ken Rosewall against the lightly-regarded Japanese.

He was forced five sets Friday by Kosei Kamo and then yesterday, after requesting he be permitted to play the second match, was carried four sets by Atsushi Miyagi, 3-6, 6-3, 9-7.

The second singles match between Rosewall and Kamo was rained out, with Rosewall leading 3-1 in the first set. This gave Australia a 4-0 score in the series.

Won't Support Adlai

Chicago, Aug. 8 (AP)—Texas' Democratic Gov. Allan Shivers, who fought Adlai Stevenson's candidacy three years ago, still doesn't think Stevenson is presidential timber. "I will oppose the nomination of Mr. Stevenson for president in 1956," Shivers, one of the early arrivals for this week's governors' conference, told a reporter yesterday. "And should he be nominated, I will not support him."

Colonials RainedOut

Rain washed out the Kingston Colonial-Brooklyn Windsor game in the New York-New Jersey Semi-Pro League at the end of one and one half innings Saturday night at Dietz Stadium.

Although charged with two runs, southpaw Bob Maines had struck out five of the ten batters he faced.

No date was set for replaying the contest.

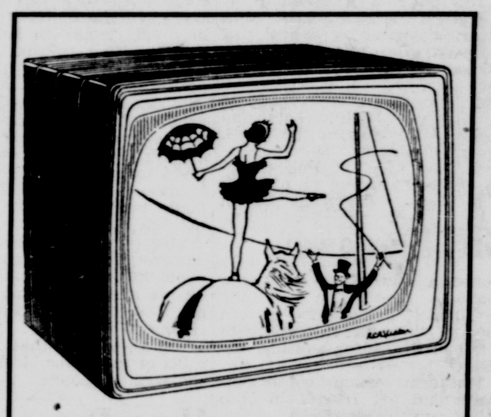

Meanwhile, Manager Fred Davi's squad is scheduled to close out the season next Saturday night against the Uncle Sams of Paterson.

Five-Team Playoff Possible, But Unlikely in Junior Loop

By JACK HAND
(The Associated Press)

How about a five-team playoff for the American League pennant. It sounds fantastic but the pot is boiling up a real fine stew for President Will Harridge.

Under the American League system, it's sudden death, a one-game playoff, in case of a tie. But that takes care of only two clubs. With seven weeks to go only 1½ games separate the top four clubs. Detroit in fifth place is only 5½ back.

The weatherman helped tighten the screws Sunday, forcing Chicago to settle for a 2-2 tie in 12 innings at Baltimore and washing out a scheduled second game. Rain also postponed a second game at Washington after the Senators had bopped the Cleveland Indians again 9-3.

MICKEY MANTLE'S 10th inning home run, his 26th of the season and second of the game, gave New York a split with Detroit and possession of second place all by themselves, three percentage points behind Chicago. Detroit shaded New York in the opener 4-2 but Mantle's clout added up to a 3-2 Yankee victory in the second behind Bob Turley.

The fast-moving Boston Red Sox outlasted Kansas City in a wild fray 16-12, hammering four pitchers for 19 hits and 31 total bases. Despite the victory, the Red Sox lost the series to the A's, the first set they had dropped since they bowed to Cleveland July 16-17. Boston was the only team to gain, picking up a half game.

In the National League where they are more concerned with second place than first, Milwaukee won a pair from Pittsburgh 6-3 and 4-2 while New York split two at Cincinnati, losing 8-5 and winning 6-5. As a result the Braves have a two-game edge on the Giants in their second-place battle. If you insist, the Braves are "only" 14½ games back of Brooklyn which bowed to Chicago 4-3. Philadelphia tramped St. Louis 9-6 in the other game.

CHICAGO HAD Jim Busby on second base with two out in the 13th when rain made further play impossible at Baltimore. All individual records go into the book but the game must be replayed in its entirety as well as the postponed second game when the White Sox visit Baltimore for the last time in September.

Mantle's two homers saved the Yanks from dropping a full game behind Chicago. After Al Kaline's two-run single tied the score in the eighth, Mantle hit a 1-1 pitch off reliefer Babe Birrer into the upper stands in right field for the ball game. He hit his first homer off starter Frank Lary in the first inning. Detroit won the opener in the seventh on successive doubles by Kaline and Jack Phillips and Ray Boone's triple that knocked out Tommy Byrne.

Norm Zauchin, Sammy White and Bill Klaus each belted three hits for the Red Sox in their free-hitting game with the A's. After Boston scored six runs in the eighth to wrap it up, the A's came back with five in the ninth.

THE DODGERS were beaten at Chicago by Gene Baker's single in the sixth, following Dee Fondy's double.

Hank Aaron's two-runs homer helped Milwaukee whip Pittsburgh in the first game after the Braves had knocked out Vernon Law to score four runs in the first inning.

Willie Mays hit his 35th home run for the Giants, the 100th of his career, in the first game but Cincinnati won it with homers by Wally Post and relief pitcher Hershel Freeman. Mays' sacrifice fly scored Joe Amalfitano with the winning run in the ninth inning of the second game in which the Giants hit four homers, two by Gail Harris.

Richie Ashburn connected with a double that drove in two vital runs in the eighth inning of the Phillies' triumph over St. Louis.

The Champ Returns

Basilio-Scortichini Boxing Top for Week

By The Associated Press

Carmen Basilio, the New York welterweight king, returns to action Wednesday night at Madison Square Garden in a non-title bout with Italo Scortichini.

Inactive for two months since he won his title by stopping Tony Demarco at Syracuse, the 28-year-old Basilio meets Scortichini for the third time in their 10-round match (radio and TV-ABC.)

Basilio and Scortichini fought a draw at Miami, Fla., Jan. 16, 1954, and Basilio won a unanimous decision four months later. While Basilio has fought only Peter Mueller and Demarco this year, the busy Italian fought six opponents and made trips to Australia and Manila.

CARL (BOBO) OLSON sets out to re-establish himself after his disastrous evening with Archie Moore when he boxes Jimmy Martinez of Phoenix, Ariz., Saturday night at the Portland ball park. Olson's middleweight crown will not be at stake in the 10-rounder.

According to present plans, Olson probably will box another over-the-weight match Aug. 26 at San Francisco before he settles down to the training grind for the proposed Nov. 4 defense against Sugar Ray Robinson at Chicago.

VIRGIL AKINS, the St. Louis welter who has been rolling at top speed in recent months with knockouts over Ronnie Delaney and Joe Miceli, tops the Monday card at New York's St. Nicholas Arena (Dumont-TV) against Isaac Logart of Cuba.

Logart whipped Ludwig Lightburn in his two most recent starts in close fights.

Orlando Zulueta and Glen Flanagan top an open air show at Elmira, N. Y., Aug. 16, the first show at that city in years. North Adams, Mass., probably will have a boxing rebirth due to Archie Moore's decision to train in the Berkshire hills.

Daddy, My Hero

Ford Cops American With 277

Chicago, Aug. 8 (AP) — Four-year-old Mike straddled "Daddy" Doug Ford's shoulders and pounded tom-tom fashion on his head.

Ten-year-old Doug, Jr., hung to his dad's hand, his eyes gleaming in hero worship.

The dad said: "I guess I'll go back to the trailer and do some baby sitting. I've got another, Pamela. But she's only five months old."

Doug Ford is the hottest pro golfer on the circuit right now. His check of $3,420 for winning the All-American tournament at Tam O'Shanter yesterday boosted his earnings for the season to $19,030 and gave him third place on the PGA money-winning list.

THE 33-YEAR-old Ford, winner of the National PGA crown two weeks ago, took the All-American prize with a final 70 for a 72-hole total of 277—11 under par.

Instead of the windup being a race for the title, it was more a retreat. While Ford breezed in with a 2-under 70, British Open champion Peter Thomson — the 54-hole leader — ballooned to 78 for 284 and seventh place.

Most of the other front runners also collapsed with the result that little-known Leo Biagetti of Willoughby, Ohio, took second with 70 for 280, and a four-way tie for third developed among Ted Kroll, Tony Holguin, Jimmy Demaret and Freddie Haas—each at 283.

"Of course the big one is yet to come," said Ford. "I mean the "world" tournament (starting Thursday). I would settle right now for 274. If the weather remains good, I think it will take that to win."

The 72-hole grind in the "world" event pays the winner $50,000 in cash and guarantees $55,000 more for 55 exhibition matches.

Red Cross Plans Disaster Program For East Coast

Washington, Aug. 8 (AP)—The American Red Cross said today it has worked out for possible use on the Eastern Seaboard in event of hurricanes "one of the most exhaustive disaster plans" it ever has formulated.

A Red Cross spokesman said an intensive effort was made because of the experience with 1954 hurricanes Carol, Edna and Hazel and because of indications that changing weather patterns may have made the whole Atlantic Seaboard a hurricane belt.

THE PLAN envisions a closer working relation with the weather bureau, the spokesman said, as well as closer coordination with the army, coast guard, private agencies such as veteran's groups and civil defense organizations.

Regional headquarters at Alexandria, Va., responsible for the area from Virginia north to Maine, has made arrangements with army officials to have such supplies as cots, blankets and feeding units available in case of need, the official said.

In addition, he added, key alert points have been designated. In the event a storm appears to be headed for the Virginia area, trained staff workers would be dispatched to these points to work with local Red Cross chapters.

THESE POINTS include Virginia Beach, Norfolk, Newport News and Lancaster County, Va.; Crisfield and Princess Anne, Md.; Atlantic City, N. J.; and two points on Long Island, N. Y.

Similar alert points in New England include Milford, New London and New Haven, Conn.; Newport, Portsmouth and Providence, R. I.; New Bedford, Fall River, Buzzards Bay and Boston, Mass.; Portsmouth, N. H.; and Portland and Rockland, Maine.

Naval Rescue

Chuia Vista, Calif. (AP)—A U. S. Navy seaman came to the rescue after others had failed to end a five-day tree sit by a yowling cat. Kalopa Tavai went up the 40-foot palm tree barefooted with ease, a trick he learned in his native Samoa.

INTRODUCTION TO BIG LEAGUES—Rookie second baseman Bobby Richardson is flipped by sliding Al Kaline, Detroit Tiger right fielder, but not before Bob gets ball off to first to complete doubleplay in first inning of opener of twin bill between Detroit and New York at Yankee Stadium, New York, Aug. 7. Five-Team Playoff Possible, But Unlikely in Junior Loop

By JACK HAND
(The Associated Press)

How about a five-team playoff for the American League pennant. It sounds fantastic but the pot is boiling up a real fine stew for President Will Harridge.

Under the American League system, it's sudden death, a one-game playoff, in case of a tie. But that takes care of only two clubs. With seven weeks to go only 1½ games separate the top four clubs. Detroit in fifth place is only 5½ back.

The weatherman helped tighten the screws Sunday, forcing Chicago to settle for a 2-2 tie in 12 innings at Baltimore and washing out a scheduled second game. Rain also postponed a second game at Washington after the Senators had bopped the Cleveland Indians again 9-3.

MICKEY MANTLE'S 10th inning home run, his 26th of the season and second of the game, gave New York a split with Detroit and possession of second place all by themselves, three percentage points behind Chicago. Detroit shaded New York in the opener 4-2 but Mantle's clout added up to a 3-2 Yankee victory in the second behind Bob Turley.

The fast-moving Boston Red Sox outlasted Kansas City in a wild fray 16-12, hammering four pitchers for 19 hits and 31 total bases. Despite the victory, the Red Sox lost the series to the A's, the first set they had dropped since they bowed to Cleveland July 16-17. Boston was the only team to gain, picking up a half game.

In the National League where they are more concerned with second place than first, Milwaukee won a pair from Pittsburgh 6-3 and 4-2 while New York split two at Cincinnati, losing 8-5 and winning 6-5. As a result the Braves have a two-game edge on the Giants in their second-place battle. If you insist, the Braves are "only" 14½ games back of Brooklyn which bowed to Chicago 4-3. Philadelphia tramped St. Louis 9-6 in the other game.

CHICAGO HAD Jim Busby on second base with two out in the 13th when rain made further play impossible at Baltimore. All individual records go into the book but the game must be replayed in its entirety as well as the postponed second game when the White Sox visit Baltimore for the last time in September.

Mantle's two homers saved the Yanks from dropping a full game behind Chicago. After Al Kaline's two-run single tied the score in the eighth, Mantle hit a 1-1 pitch off reliefer Babe Birrer into the upper stands in right field for the ball game. He hit his first homer off starter Frank Lary in the first inning. Detroit won the opener in the seventh on successive doubles by Kaline and Jack Phillips and Ray Boone's triple that knocked out Tommy Byrne.

Norm Zauchin, Sammy White and Bill Klaus each belted three hits for the Red Sox in their free-hitting game with the A's. After Boston scored six runs in the eighth to wrap it up, the A's came back with five in the ninth.

THE DODGERS were beaten at Chicago by Gene Baker's single in the sixth, following Dee Fondy's double.

Hank Aaron's two-runs homer helped Milwaukee whip Pittsburgh in the first game after the Braves had knocked out Vernon Law to score four runs in the first inning.

Willie Mays hit his 35th home run for the Giants, the 100th of his career, in the first game but Cincinnati won it with homers by Wally Post and relief pitcher Hershel Freeman. Mays' sacrifice fly scored Joe Amalfitano with the winning run in the ninth inning of the second game in which the Giants hit four homers, two by Gail Harris.

Richie Ashburn connected with a double that drove in two vital runs in the eighth inning of the Phillies' triumph over St. Louis.

Chicago Team Wins Bridge Tournament

Chicago, Aug 8 (AP)—A Chicago team won the non-masters team game and a Toledo quartette placed second in first completed event of the American Contract Bridge League's summer tournament yesterday.

The winning team was composed of Bryce McAdam, Stanley Lefler, Ross Sherill and Mitchell Edelson. The runner-up Toledo team included Lou Abrams, Robert Harlow, Victor Wirpsa and Carl Hudecek.

Leaders after the first of four rounds in the national mixed team championship was a five-member group including Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Levein of East Orange, N. J.; Mrs. Robert Burnstein of Miami Beach; Leo Roet of Irvington, N. J., and Dr. Richard Green of New Orleans. This team won 19½ of 28 games.

Current mixed team runner-up, with 19 victories, was the combination of Herbert Pearson and Mrs. Betty Combs of Los Angeles, Len Mazarus and Marion Green of Minneapolis.

Dangerous Line

Diagonal, Iowa (AP)—Ronald Beemer stepped out of his car to watch a small plane spraying crops. The plane's landing gear caught and broke a wire. About 300 feet of the wire whipped around and around Beemer and his car. He had numerous deep cuts and welts and he estimated damage to his car at $200 to $300. The airplane apparently was not damaged. It kept on going.

The Champ Returns

Basilio-Scortichini Boxing Top for Week

By The Associated Press

Carmen Basilio, the New York welterweight king, returns to action Wednesday night at Madison Square Garden in a non-title bout with Italo Scortichini.

Inactive for two months since he won his title by stopping Tony Demarco at Syracuse, the 28-year-old Basilio meets Scortichini for the third time in their 10-round match (radio and TV-ABC.)

Basilio and Scortichini fought a draw at Miami, Fla., Jan. 16, 1954, and Basilio won a unanimous decision four months later. While Basilio has fought only Peter Mueller and Demarco this year, the busy Italian fought six opponents and made trips to Australia and Manila.

CARL (BOBO) OLSON sets out to re-establish himself after his disastrous evening with Archie Moore when he boxes Jimmy Martinez of Phoenix, Ariz., Saturday night at the Portland ball park. Olson's middleweight crown will not be at stake in the 10-rounder.

According to present plans, Olson probably will box another over-the-weight match Aug. 26 at San Francisco before he settles down to the training grind for the proposed Nov. 4 defense against Sugar Ray Robinson at Chicago.

VIRGIL AKINS, the St. Louis welter who has been rolling at top speed in recent months with knockouts over Ronnie Delaney and Joe Miceli, tops the Monday card at New York's St. Nicholas Arena (Dumont-TV) against Isaac Logart of Cuba.

Logart whipped Ludwig Lightburn in his two most recent starts in close fights.

Orlando Zulueta and Glen Flanagan top an open air show at Elmira, N. Y., Aug. 16, the first show at that city in years. North Adams, Mass., probably will have a boxing rebirth due to Archie Moore's decision to train in the Berkshire hills.

Red Cross Plans Disaster Program For East Coast

Washington, Aug. 8 (AP)—The American Red Cross said today it has worked out for possible use on the Eastern Seaboard in event of hurricanes "one of the most exhaustive disaster plans" it ever has formulated.

A Red Cross spokesman said an intensive effort was made because of the experience with 1954 hurricanes Carol, Edna and Hazel and because of indications that changing weather patterns may have made the whole Atlantic Seaboard a hurricane belt.

THE PLAN envisions a closer working relation with the weather bureau, the spokesman said, as well as closer coordination with the army, coast guard, private agencies such as veteran's groups and civil defense organizations.

Regional headquarters at Alexandria, Va., responsible for the area from Virginia north to Maine, has made arrangements with army officials to have such supplies as cots, blankets and feeding units available in case of need, the official said.

In addition, he added, key alert points have been designated. In the event a storm appears to be headed for the Virginia area, trained staff workers would be dispatched to these points to work with local Red Cross chapters.

THESE POINTS include Virginia Beach, Norfolk, Newport News and Lancaster County, Va.; Crisfield and Princess Anne, Md.; Atlantic City, N. J.; and two points on Long Island, N. Y.

Similar alert points in New England include Milford, New London and New Haven, Conn.; Newport, Portsmouth and Providence, R. I.; New Bedford, Fall River, Buzzards Bay and Boston, Mass.; Portsmouth, N. H.; and Portland and Rockland, Maine.

Daddy, My Hero

Ford Cops American With 277

Chicago, Aug. 8 (AP) — Four-year-old Mike straddled "Daddy" Doug Ford's shoulders and pounded tom-tom fashion on his head.

Ten-year-old Doug, Jr., hung to his dad's hand, his eyes gleaming in hero worship.

The dad said: "I guess I'll go back to the trailer and do some baby sitting. I've got another, Pamela. But she's only five months old."

Doug Ford is the hottest pro golfer on the circuit right now. His check of $3,420 for winning the All-American tournament at Tam O'Shanter yesterday boosted his earnings for the season to $19,030 and gave him third place on the PGA money-winning list.

THE 33-YEAR-old Ford, winner of the National PGA crown two weeks ago, took the All-American prize with a final 70 for a 72-hole total of 277—11 under par.

Instead of the windup being a race for the title, it was more a retreat. While Ford breezed in with a 2-under 70, British Open champion Peter Thomson — the 54-hole leader — ballooned to 78 for 284 and seventh place.

Most of the other front runners also collapsed with the result that little-known Leo Biagetti of Willoughby, Ohio, took second with 70 for 280, and a four-way tie for third developed among Ted Kroll, Tony Holguin, Jimmy Demaret and Freddie Haas—each at 283.

"Of course the big one is yet to come," said Ford. "I mean the "world" tournament (starting Thursday). I would settle right now for 274. If the weather remains good, I think it will take that to win."

The 72-hole grind in the "world" event pays the winner $50,000 in cash and guarantees $55,000 more for 55 exhibition matches.

More World Energy Seen by End of Century

Geneva, Aug. 8 (AP)—A United Nations report said today the world will need more than eight times as much electrical, heating and transport energy by the end of the present century as it did in 1952.

And as early as 1975, it forecast the world's use of such energy will have almost tripled.

The document, read to the First International Atomic Energy Conference by N. B. Guyol of the UN Secretariat, declared that if, during the next half century, nuclear science is directed soely towards the production of electric power, no more than a fifth of the world's energy will be obtained from nuclear sources in the year 2000.

If, on the other hand, nuclear science is also directed toward the production of low cost heat, the report said, fissionable materials could provide as much as three-quarters of the energy required in the year 2000.

The report said the estimates were arrived at by linking rates of growth of energy's use in agriculture, industry, transport and households with the known consumtion in 1952.

"A good deal of estimation has been required to fill gaps in the world picture," it said, "more especially in respect (to) east Europe, the U.S.S.R. and China."

pound on Wolmi Island, one of the historic points seized in the MacArthur invasion battle, Sept. 15, 1950.

Armored cars and both American and ROK military police guarded the causeway.

The ROK army counter intelligence corps and national police reported three demonstrators were injured in a clash Sunday night when 120 demonstrators tried to reach the island in 13 small boats.

American soldiers guarding the NNSC men threw stones at the boats, the ROK CIC said, when some of the craft got about 30 to 35 feet from the island shore.

Resulting injuries are believed minor.

Hope Polio Waning

Boston, Aug. 8 (AP)—Health authorities expressed hope today that Boston's polio has passed its peak. Edward J. Dailey, administrator at Haynes Memorial Hospital, said that only two of 26 polio cases admitted at Haynes in the last three days are Boston residents. "It looks like it is beginning to shift outside the city," Dailey said. Among the new patients was 33-year-old Mrs. Laurence Curtis of Boston, wife of the Republican representative in Congress from the 10th Massachusetts District. Doctors at Phillips House said her condition was good but the exact nature of her illness had not been determined.

At Lakeport Saturday night, Paul De Mascole, 45, and his nephew, Rudolph Tramazzo, 28, both of Syracuse, were drowned when they jumped into Oneida Lake from a burning motorboat.

James Speirs, 64, of Chittenango, died of a heart attack trying to go to their rescue.

Two migrant farm workers and a Sodus man were killed yesteray when two automobiles collided head-on near Alton.

The dead were James Williams, 55, and his wife, Clara, 49, both of Bradenton, Fla., riding in one car, and George Camp, 68, passenger in the other.

Near Petersburg Sunday, John Noyes, 15, and Harry R. Russell, 24, were killed early Sunday when an automobile knocked down concrete guard posts and plunged over a 75-foot embankment on Route 2 near the Massachusetts line. Both were, from Williamstown, Mass.

Mrs. Madoline Rolph, 43, and her father, Harry B. Parsons, 68, both of Otego, were injured fatally Saturday night when their car and another collided during a rainstorm at Chenango bridge, about three miles north of Binghamton.

A Brooklyn bartender and his two-year-old son were drowned Saturday when an outboard motorboat overturned in Three-Mile Harbor near East Hampton, L. I. James Burke, 34, and his son James Jr. were drowned. Six other children and an adult were plunged into the water at the same time but were rescued by rowboats.

AEC Sets Uranium, Heavy Water Prices

Washington, Aug. 8 (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) today set prices for uranium and heavy water leased and sold in the government's program to develop peaceful uses of atomic energy around the world.

The announcement said the schedule of values "should be of assistance to those nations planning to use research reactors as part of their program for benign uses of the atom."

AEC said it also was making public the leasing and sales prices at the United Nations' atomic energy conference in Geneva.

The value established for lease of uranium enriched to 20 per cent in U235 for research reactors under agreements between the United States and friendly nations is $25 per gram of contained U235.

Sales prices announced were $28 per pound of heavy water and $14 per kilogram of normal uranium metal. A kilogram is equal to 2.2046 pounds.

Heavy water is used as a moderator and coolant in certain types of research reactors. It enables the reactor system to make sufficient use of neutrons.

Sen. Johnson Home

Washington, Aug. 8 (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D.-Tex.), said to have "made steady improvement" since suffering a heart attack July 2, returned to his Washington home yesterday. Upon discharging him, the naval medical center at suburban Bethesda, Md., said in a bulletin: "During the last month there have been no complications and he has made steady improvement." An aide said Johnson, the Senate Democratic leader, is "feeling very well." He plans several weeks' rest here before returning to Texas.

More World Energy Seen by End of Century

Geneva, Aug. 8 (AP)—A United Nations report said today the world will need more than eight times as much electrical, heating and transport energy by the end of the present century as it did in 1952.

And as early as 1975, it forecast the world's use of such energy will have almost tripled.

The document, read to the First International Atomic Energy Conference by N. B. Guyol of the UN Secretariat, declared that if, during the next half century, nuclear science is directed soely towards the production of electric power, no more than a fifth of the world's energy will be obtained from nuclear sources in the year 2000.

If, on the other hand, nuclear science is also directed toward the production of low cost heat, the report said, fissionable materials could provide as much as three-quarters of the energy required in the year 2000.

The report said the estimates were arrived at by linking rates of growth of energy's use in agriculture, industry, transport and households with the known consumtion in 1952.

"A good deal of estimation has been required to fill gaps in the world picture," it said, "more especially in respect (to) east Europe, the U.S.S.R. and China."

pound on Wolmi Island, one of the historic points seized in the MacArthur invasion battle, Sept. 15, 1950.

Armored cars and both American and ROK military police guarded the causeway.

The ROK army counter intelligence corps and national police reported three demonstrators were injured in a clash Sunday night when 120 demonstrators tried to reach the island in 13 small boats.

American soldiers guarding the NNSC men threw stones at the boats, the ROK CIC said, when some of the craft got about 30 to 35 feet from the island shore.

Resulting injuries are believed minor.

Hope Polio Waning

Boston, Aug. 8 (AP)—Health authorities expressed hope today that Boston's polio has passed its peak. Edward J. Dailey, administrator at Haynes Memorial Hospital, said that only two of 26 polio cases admitted at Haynes in the last three days are Boston residents. "It looks like it is beginning to shift outside the city," Dailey said. Among the new patients was 33-year-old Mrs. Laurence Curtis of Boston, wife of the Republican representative in Congress from the 10th Massachusetts District. Doctors at Phillips House said her condition was good but the exact nature of her illness had not been determined.

At Lakeport Saturday night, Paul De Mascole, 45, and his nephew, Rudolph Tramazzo, 28, both of Syracuse, were drowned when they jumped into Oneida Lake from a burning motorboat.

James Speirs, 64, of Chittenango, died of a heart attack trying to go to their rescue.

Two migrant farm workers and a Sodus man were killed yesteray when two automobiles collided head-on near Alton.

The dead were James Williams, 55, and his wife, Clara, 49, both of Bradenton, Fla., riding in one car, and George Camp, 68, passenger in the other.

Near Petersburg Sunday, John Noyes, 15, and Harry R. Russell, 24, were killed early Sunday when an automobile knocked down concrete guard posts and plunged over a 75-foot embankment on Route 2 near the Massachusetts line. Both were from Williamstown, Mass.

Mrs. Madoline Rolph, 43, and her father, Harry B. Parsons, 68, both of Otego, were injured fatally Saturday night when their car and another collided during a rainstorm at Chenango bridge, about three miles north of Binghamton.

A Brooklyn bartender and his two-year-old son were drowned Saturday when an outboard motorboat overturned in Three-Mile Harbor near East Hampton, L. I. James Burke, 34, and his son James Jr. were drowned. Six other children and an adult were plunged into the water at the same time but were rescued by rowboats.

AEC Sets Uranium, Heavy Water Prices

Washington, Aug. 8 (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) today set prices for uranium and heavy water leased and sold in the government's program to develop peaceful uses of atomic energy around the world.

The announcement said the schedule of values "should be of assistance to those nations planning to use research reactors as part of their program for benign uses of the atom."

AEC said it also was making public the leasing and sales prices at the United Nations' atomic energy conference in Geneva.

The value established for lease of uranium enriched to 20 per cent in U235 for research reactors under agreements between the United States and friendly nations is $25 per gram of contained U235.

Sales prices announced were $28 per pound of heavy water and $14 per kilogram of normal uranium metal. A kilogram is equal to 2.2046 pounds.

Heavy water is used as a moderator and coolant in certain types of research reactors. It enables the reactor system to make sufficient use of neutrons.

Sen. Johnson Home

Washington, Aug. 8 (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D.-Tex.), said to have "made steady improvement" since suffering a heart attack July 2, returned to his Washington home yesterday. Upon discharging him, the naval medical center at suburban Bethesda, Md., said in a bulletin: "During the last month there have been no complications and he has made steady improvement." An aide said Johnson, the Senate Democratic leader, is "feeling very well." He plans several weeks' rest here before returning to Texas.

News Is Published Of Air Tragedy By Soviet Paper

Moscow, Aug. 8 (AP)—Pravda today published news of one of Russia's worst known air disasters in recent years—the fiery crash of a Soviet airliner which claimed the lives of 25 persons, including 10 Norwegian women.

It was the first time in years that the Soviet press has reported such an accident. The brief dispatch on page three of the Communist party organ said the tragedy occurred Saturday near Voronezh, 290 miles southeast of Moscow.

THE WOMEN were members of Norwegian political parties who had accepted a Soviet invitation to visit Russia. The remaining victims were Russians, five of them crewmen.

Norwegian Embassy officials here said they had been informed of the accident Sunday night. They said they understood the victims' bodies could not be identified individually and that the Norwegians would be cremated and their ashes sent home.

The Soviet foreign ministry extended the government's "deepest regrets" yesterday to the Norwegian charge d'affaires. The charge also was told Russia would pay indemnities for the loss of the Norwegian lives.

THE TASS news agency dispatch in Pravda said the plane was "making its usual trip from Stalingrad to Moscow" when it "caught fire in the air and crashed."

Also among the dead were three members of the Anti-Fascist Committee of Soviet Women, who sponsored the visit of the Norwegian women.

Tass said a government commission had gone to Voronezh to investigate the crash.

Hundreds Pay Respects To Carmen Miranda

Hollywood, Aug. 8 (AP)—Hundreds of faithful fans lined up in 90 degree heat outside a Hollywood mortuary awaiting their turn to pass by the bronze coffin of Actress Carmen Miranda.

The body of the little Latin performer lay in state yesterday and last night Rosary was recited for her at the Church of the Good Shepherd in Beverly Hills. The red beads of a Rosary were twined in her left hand and she was dressed in a simple red suit.

Requiem Mass is to be celebrated in the same church today.

The 41-year-old actress died of a heart attack early Friday in her Beverly Hills home following a strenuous performance the night before with Jimmy Durante for a filmed television show.

A Brazilian government plane is to take the body to Rio de Janeiro, the city of her youth, for additional services there Wednesday or Thursday. Her husband, film producer David Sebastian and her mother, Mrs. Maria Miranda de Cunha, will accompany the body.

Wyoming has 1,890 miles of railroad.

Hurricane Moves Along Open Sea

Miami, Fla., Aug. 8 (AP)—A weather drama now shaping up will determine in the next 24 hours whether the U. S. Eastern Seaboard will feel the 135-mile winds of hurricane Connie.

The first big hurricane of the year plowed steadily along over the open sea at about 15 miles an hour. It was bypassing the Bahama Island chain, its center about 200 miles from the nearest land.

A TROUGH IN front of a high pressure system moved eastward, and eventually will attract Connie. The drama shapes up like this, as described by storm forecasters in the Miami weather bureau:

If the trough moves fast enough, Connie will swing into its southern portion, where a strong air flow from the southwest would carry the hurricane away from land.

But if the movement is slow and Connie gains another three degrees (180 miles) of latitude, it possibly will swing into the northern edge of the low pressure trough. The air flow on that side is from the east. This would push Connie towards land.

"We're sweating it out," said Walter R. Davis, storm warning forecaster. "Our best judgment now is that Connie will be affected by the southern portion of the trough and will turn northward, then northeastward. Time will tell.

"If warnings are required, they will be issued in plenty of time."

At 5 a. m. (EST) it was centered roughly 400 miles off the east coast of Florida and about 300 miles east of Nassau, Bahamas. It was moving along a northwest path at a speed of 15 miles an hour, a course that would keep it east of the Bahamas where winds should be no stronger than gale force. Its pace was expected to lessen today to about 12 or 13 miles an hour.

WEATHERMEN tracking it along said air currents may push it to a north northwest course. These storms are frequently pushed into a path back to sea.

The storm forecasters say it is too early to tell whether the hurricane will strike the United States coastline.

It has been steadily edging closer to the mainland since it formed Thursday, following a gradual curve that has kept its destructive center away from any land area.

Shipping is giving it a wide berth. The nearest ship last night reported it was 200 miles northeast of the storm.

RESIDENTS along the Atlantic coast from Cape Hatteras, N. C., to central Florida were warned that the winds would gradually increase and reach hurricane force 150 to 200 miles offshore today and tonight.

Weather forecasters said they would issue hurricane alerts if the whirling winds sweep to a point where they could reach the coast line in 36 hours.

Some of the side winds and heavy rains have been felt on numerous Atlantic islands.

Connie brushed past the Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico Saturday night, brining torrential rains and gale winds but damage was light.

Its eye, which is about 35 miles across, passed within 180 miles of Turks Islands, the southernmost group in the Bahamas chain, Sunday.

Small craft from Cape Hatteras to central Florida were warned to stay in port until the hurricane passes.

Think It Through

By EDWARD F. HUTTON

Who are the real beneficiaries of mass production, made possible by tools and machines?

The consumers are the beneficiaries. No one can order them around in a free market.

When the consumers refuse to buy any product put on the market, some manufacturer or merchant goes bust.

Mr. Hutton

America enjoys the highest production and freest choice of food, gadgets, comforts, necessities and luxuries of any nation in the world. All this was made possible by "Risk Capital" — by men unafraid to risk their savings — the valorous, venturesome spirit of strong men. That's America!

The Government has nothing to give you except what it takes from you.

When Government monopolizes production, it destroys the competitiveness of our Risk Capital System. That's the backbone of America. The incentives to create, build and produce have put billions of dollars into tools for production, thereby keeping people employed. They have built America from short pants to Number One World Power. They made the system that produces more and better goods at less and less cost, so that more and more people can buy and own them.

Let's defend this system, neighbor. There is none better.

Cool Air Breaks Long Hot Period

(By The Associated Press)

Cool air and thundershowers which broke the summer's longest and most intense heat wave over the weekeend reached the deep south today, and in parts of the north there was a touch of autumn.

The cooling mass of air which lowered temperatures as much as 14 to 20 degrees in the central plains overspread the east and even the northern parts of Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi.

It was a shivery 42 degrees at Grand Marais, Mich., early today, a drop of 20 degrees from a day earlier; and a more comfortable 54 at Wausau, Wis., 60 at Detroit and 66 at Des Moines.

AHEAD OF the cool air mass, however, were such early morning temperatures as 78 at New Orleans, 80 at Birmingham, Ala., and 85 at Fort Worth.

It was warming up again, however, on the plains and the weather continued hot in the interior sections of the far west.

Scattered thundershowers moved ahead of the cool air, dumping occasionally heavy falls such as 2.32 inches at Newark, N. J., and 1.07 at Guymon, Okla.

Early morning reports from around the country included 69 degrees at Salt Lake City, 65 at Denver, 60 at Seattle, 54 at San Francisco, 54 at Los Angeles, 66 at Chicago.

Marines Give Sailing Back to the Navy

Newport Beach, Calif., Aug. 8 (AP)—Four marines turned the art of sailing back to the navy today after unsuccessfully trying to paddle 30 miles to Catalina Island in a rubber life raft.

The leathernecks shoved off from Newport at 4 a. m. Saturday and hoped to reach Catalina by dusk. They carried fruit juices and Mae West jackets.

Sunburned and seasick after getting half way across, the marines hailed a passing boat which radioed for another vessel to tow the raft here.

Making the try were Cpl. Anthony J. Tesce, 20; Sgt. Dave Johnson, 21; Cpl. Gary Bear, 22; and his brother Pfc. James Bear, 20. All were stationed at nearby El Toro Marine Air Station.

Injured in Crash

Sarah Wienei, of Philadelphia, was reported slightly injured early Saturday afternoon when a car driven by Adolph Greenberg, 69, of Philadelphia, struck a pole on Broadway, near Stuyvesant street. Officers Harold DeGraff and Floyd LaForge said the woman suffered a slight injury of the forehead. The pole was damaged at its base.

Airmen Held Own Services Sundays

Tokyo, Aug. 8 (AP)—The 11 American airmen just freed from 2½ years of capivity in Red China said today they had their own church services every Sunday after they were reunited in prison in December 1954.

"There was not a single member of our group who didn't take part a little bit," said Maj. William H. Baumer of Lewisburg, Pa.

The two Catholics Capt. Eugene J. Vaadi of Clayton, N. Y., and T/Sgt. Howard W. Brown of St. Paul, Minn. said the Rosary.

Baumer and two others conducted protestant services for the rest.

On Christmas and Easter the protestants and catholics joined for services and sang hymns.

Baumer said he "'read a little" every day until he had finished the bible.

New York, Aug. 8 (AP)—David S. Ingalls, president and publisher of the Cincinnati Times-Star, said today that "as far as I know there is nothing to" reports he is being considered as a possible successor to Air Force Secretary Harold Talbott. Talbott has resigned, effective Aug. 13.

IF IT WEREN'T FOR THE SUMMER HEAT WE WOULDN'T APPRECIATE THE SHADE.

Sun is necessary for your crops . . . but sometimes the heat and dryness combine with diease and insects to rob your crops of their yield. Our quality Seed will help lessen the chance of crop disease.
